Byrnes Will Ask Russians To Help Form Commission On Atom Energy

Disclosure Is Made On Eve of Secretary of State's Departure for Ministers' Conference

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The United States will seek Russian support in organizing a special United Nations commission to handle atomic problems, Secretary of State Byrnes disclosed tonight on the eve of his departure for Moscow.

Byrnes also revealed at a news conference that he would renew his plan for writing the peace of Europe in a general peace conference for which preparations would be made through revised sessions of the inactive foreign ministers council at London.

Byrnes will leave for Moscow tomorrow at 9 a. m., Eastern Standard time, taking along six advisers and aides. His conferences with Soviet Commissar Molotov and British Foreign Minister Bevin are scheduled to start Saturday.

Marshall May Leave Soon

Gen. George C. Marshall may be able to leave in two days for his assignment as special ambassador for President Truman in China, Byrnes said. A plane is ready to take off with Marshall as soon as the Pearl Harbor committee releases him. Byrnes, Marshall and the president conferred at the White House today.

Byrnes also told reporters that Britain is proposing to Russia coordinated withdrawal of their armies from Iran as soon as possible. The British reported this in a note saying that they would not try to get out by January 1, as Washington proposed, since Russia had declined to do so.

Byrnes discussed in some detail his plans for the Moscow meeting and revealed that while there had been an exchange of ideas on topics to be taken up there were no prior agreements that would absolutely assure the success of the conference.

March Meeting To Be Proposed

Byrnes said he disagreed with the idea that a meeting of this kind should not be held without the problems being solved ahead of time. He said he intends to propose that another session of the three foreign ministers be held in Washington next March.

On the atomic bomb problem, as he described it, Byrnes said the initial American purpose is to inform the Soviet government about the United Nations commission agreed upon by President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee of Britain and MacKenzie King of Canada, and to learn the Russian view.

It is not planned at this time, Byrnes said, to go into scientific questions. Another major topic certain to come up, he said, is that the proposal by which he sought unsuccessfully to break the five-nation foreign minister deadlock at London in September. Russia having objected to French and Chinese participation in discussion of peace treaties with the Balkans, Byrnes suggested that the Big Three Powers should first go over the field and that the ultimate step should be a peace conference.

Draft Board Members Will Receive Medals

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Fifty-four members of local draft boards in each state and territory will receive medals from President Truman on January 21.

National Selective Service today disclosed plans for the ceremony and said those to receive the medals at the White House will be chosen through drawings. The awards to volunteer board workers were authorized by Congress in recognition of their patriotic service.

U. S., Allies Must Finance Imports Into Reich, State Department Says

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The State department today announced a broad-scale economic policy for Germany which calls on the United States and other Allied powers to finance a program of German imports over the next two years.

Such aid will be necessary to "prevent disease and unrest" in the shattered nation, the department said. There was no estimate of the amount of money involved in the proposed financial aid, but it was believed the American share might run into hundreds of millions.

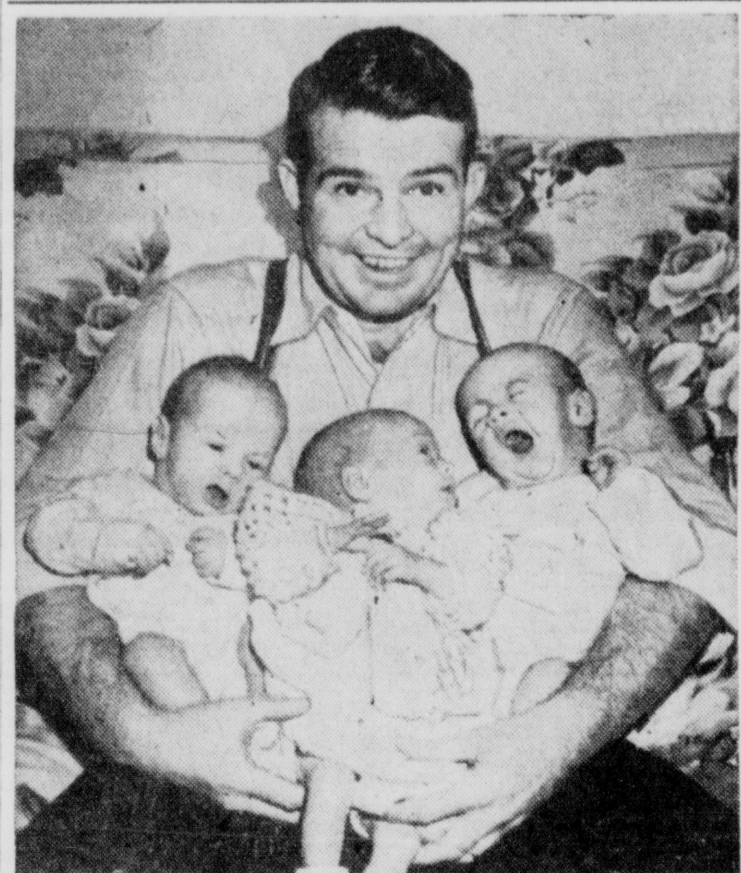

The policy statement forecasts great hardship in Germany this winter, but calls for starting a slow recovery in the spring. It is aimed at getting Germany back on its own feet economically and industrially in 1948.

This means that officials here called a "delayed process of reconstruction" in the Reich to give a head start on postwar recovery to the European neighbors that Germany once overran.

Under the American plan, the German standard of living in 1948 would not be allowed to exceed that of its European neighbors. But neither would the ex-enemy country be reduced, officials emphasized, "to a nation of foresters and goatherds." German industry would be sharply

Bill Outlawing Alleged Labor Racketeering Will Be Considered by House

By HARVEY L. SCANDRETT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The House gave right of way today to legislation outlawing alleged racketeering practices by labor after sidetracking another measure aimed at contract-violating strikes.

By a vote of 259 to 108, the House agreed to consider a bill levying heavy penalties on anyone interfering with the interstate movement of goods "by robbery or extortion." The measure itself is scheduled to be voted on tomorrow.

Earlier, the House defeated by a vote of 200 to 182 a move to bring up legislation to penalize unions violating no-strike contract provisions. Even some proponents of the measure favored delay to give more time for study of labor legislation asked by President Truman.

The anti-racketeering measure was introduced by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.) as an outgrowth of a 1942 Supreme court decision which held that the present anti-racketeering statute does not apply to labor unions. The case arose from efforts of AFL teamsters in New York city to collect fees from drivers of trucks bringing in produce from New Jersey.

The unionists were alleged to have used "strong-arm" methods of intimidation. Chairman Sabath (D-NY), of the Rules committee, led opposition to consideration of the bill.

"I do not condone or encourage racketeering," Sabath said, "but this bill goes altogether too far. It imposes a penalty of ten years imprisonment or a $10,000 fine, which is altogether out of line with the offense. I know that the unions do not condone racketeering, have done everything possible to eliminate it, and have succeeded."

The bill which the House voted today to consider, by rejecting a "rule" for it, was sponsored originally by the Military committee. It would provide that unions striking in violation of contracts be denied collective bargaining rights for a year and subject to civil damage suits.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), shouting that "the security of the country is in jeopardy," was a principal advocate of the rule and the bill. Cox, a member of the Rules committee, told his colleagues that "unless you embrace this opportunity" to act on labor legislation, "you will have none other for a long time to come."

But Chairman Sabath (D-III), of the Rules committee, attacked the measure as "vicious," "ill-considered" and the work of "enemies of organized labor."

B-28 Established Record On Non-stop Flight Across United States

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—The B-29 Dreamboat was clocked over Floyd Bennett field tonight at 11:42:19 (EST) after a non-stop flight from Burbank, Calif., that set a record. The plane had left California at 6:15:11 (EST).

William Zindt, official timer for the National Aeronautical Association, handled the stop watch and termed the time an official record for the distance. The Dreamboat last November 20 made a non-stop flight from Guam to Washington.

It also would strengthen the ban on political contributions by labor unions, repeal the Smith-Connally War Labor Disputes Act and abolish the War Labor Board.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), shouting that "the security of the country is in jeopardy," was a principal advocate of the rule and the bill. Cox, a member of the Rules committee, told his colleagues that "unless you embrace this opportunity" to act on labor legislation, "you will have none other for a long time to come."

Patton Improves; Talks with Wife For Half an Hour

By JAMES F. KING

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Dec. 11 (AP)—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., paralyzed by a broken neck, was improved tonight after a half hour talk with his wife and his condition was described officially as "very satisfactory."

The colorful United States Army general was fully conscious, rational and taking nourishment.

Nurses attending the former Third Army commander described him as "one of their best patients" and said Patton was accepting his condition like a "true soldier."

A further neurological examination of the injured commander showed "normally active" tendon reflexes.

The medical bulletin issued at 6 p. m. omitted the phrase "prognosis guarded" for the first time since the general arrived at the One Hundred Thirtieth station hospital at Heidelberg on Sunday, after an auto crash near Mannheim. (A prognosis is a prediction or conclusion in regard to the course and termination of a disease.)

Mrs. Patton arrived at her 60-year-old husband's bedside, confident that his fighting heart would carry him through.

"I have seen George in these scrapes before, and he always comes out all right," she said.

Messages expressing concern and hope for the general's speedy recovery flooded in from all over Europe today. Among them was one from Queen Mother Elizabeth and Prince Regent Charles, of Belgium.

Army Officers Declare War Department Has No Record of Receiving Copy of Message

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—A naval commander told the army's Pearl Harbor inquiry that three days before the attack the navy caught the coded Tokyo message: "War with England, war with America, peace with Russia."

Two copies of this, the controversial "winds execute" message, were sent to the War department, the naval officer related. But army officers testified that there was no record of the War department's ever receiving them.

This and other startling testimony in the army inquiry board's report has hitherto been classified as "top secret." But the report is to be placed in the record of the congressional Pearl Harbor investigation tomorrow and Chairman Barkley (D-Ky.) authorized its publication tonight.

The army board also received testimony:

That Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, the army commander at Pearl Harbor, interpreted warnings from Washington as indicating "that the War department did not believe there was going to be anything more than sabotage." Short added that "when I reported action taken and there was no comment that my action was too little or too much, I was 100 per cent convinced they (the department) agreed with it."

Short Concedes He "Was Wrong" That as late as November 28, 1941, Short discounted the probability of an air attack on Pearl Harbor by conceding to the army board that in this respect he "was wrong."

That the final warning Gen. George C. Marshall sent on December 7, which arrived after the Japanese struck, "was given to a boy for delivery on a bicycle. The boy was caught in the bombing and did not deliver the message until after the attack." The reason for this, Judge Advocate General Myron C. Cramer testified, was that army radio was not working, the signal corps sent the message to San Francisco by Western Union and from there to Hawaii by RCA, and the teletype at Honolulu was not working.

The existence of the "winds execute" message has been a subject of considerable controversy. William D. Mitchell, counsel for the congressional investigating committee, was one who said he did not believe there ever was such a message.

Previous testimony had developed that Japan had hit on various weather conditions as code for its attack. The reason for this, it was said, was to watch for the tipoff.

Message Was Given to Noyes

A Comdr. Safford, head of the navy's communications security division, testified before the army inquiry that on December 4, the "activating winds" message came in—intercepted by United States code crackers. It was deciphered and given immediately to Adm. Noyes, chief of communications.

Two copies were sent to the War department, Safford said, and then to the State department and the White House.

Neither the original nor copies "can now be found in the files of either the War or Navy department," Cramer observed in the report.

Cramer concluded: "There is no clear showing in the record as to what higher officers in the War department got either the original 'winds' message or the activating message, or got the brief message of November 19 as to the single code word to be inserted in the intelligence broadcasts when diplomatic relations became dangerous."

Row Marks Inquiry

Cramer said Col. Otis K. Sadtler, signal corps, stated that he got word from Adm. Noyes on December 5, 1941, that "the message is in" but did nothing to ascertain its wording.

An angry row broke out at the inquiry as Democrats protested that a former Republican party worker was suggesting questions to Republicans on the joint Senate-House investigating committee.

The man in question was sitting beside Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) at the committee table. He became the center of sharp exchanges after Sen. Lucas (D-III) angrily accused him of "prompting" the Republican senator and of "chuckling" at Democratic senators.

Ferguson identified him as Percy L. Greaves, Jr., in the employ of Sen. Brewster (R-Maine) who was absent.

GM Terminates Pact with UAW; Union Prepares For Long Strike

Firm Cancels Agreement for Admission of Non-production Workers to Strike-bound Plants

DETROIT, Dec. 11 (AP)—The United Auto Workers (UAW) announced tonight that General Motors Corporation has "abrogated" all local agreements reached for admission of supervisory and non-production workers to strike-bound GM plants.

GM officials declined comment on the latest breach in negotiations between the UAW and GM on issues that led to a walkout of 175,000 GM production workers twenty-one days ago.

George F. Addes, UAW secretary-treasurer, revealed GM had set Thursday (2 p. m.) for the next negotiating session, but he said the company gave no reason for foregoing a Wednesday meeting.

Union Takes "Serious View" Addes disclosed that today "there was discussion of wages, the company's cancellation of the contract and the question of having office and supervisory personnel continue at work."

Union officials indicated unofficially that they took a "serious view" of today's events, coming as they did after GM's Monday announcement that it was immediately terminating the union contract which was due to expire in April, 1946.

The UAW earlier today called on its members to contribute at least $1 weekly to a special international strike fund, the drive to open Saturday.

"It is apparent from the 'take it or leave it' attitude of GM that the strike will be of lengthy duration," the union said in announcing the fund-raising campaign.

Ford Reply Is Awaited

Industry circles speculated whether an ultimate agreement with Ford over "company security" might be made a model for other company-union understandings. The Ford reply to the union proposal is expected tomorrow.

Both the company and union proposed a financial penalty against wildcat strikes. The company suggested $5 a day for each strike participant, the money to come from the union. The union proposed a $3 to $5 fine as a wage deduction from each offender.

An unconfirmed report said Ford was prepared to eliminate the checkoff and closed shop provisions of its present contract with the UAW-GM if a satisfactory "company security" agreement were not reached.

Senate Approves Hospital Funds

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Senate today approved a federal-aid program providing an outlay of an estimated $700,000,000 for construction of hospitals and health centers during the next five years.

Action sending the legislation to the House came on a voice vote after several proposed amendments by Sen. Wagner (D-NY) and Murray (D-Mont.) were beaten down. They said they wanted to bring the measure in line with President Truman's request and lacked proper federal controls over expenditure of the hospital funds in the states.

Five years ago the Senate passed a similar bill but it was allowed to die in the House.

Of the $700,000,000 program, the federal treasury will provide $375,000,000 through grants of $75,000,000 in each of the next five years. States will put up matching funds varying from fifty to twenty-five per cent under a formula based upon per capita wealth and population.

Mr. Truman had asked that Congress give him the authority without naming exceptions, but the legislators insisted on giving eleven exemptions whole or partial exemption. This was a compromise between eight originally named by the House and fourteen by the Senate.

The president scored a victory in the action dealing with congressional veto powers, however. The compromise provided that any recommendations the president makes become law within sixty days unless both the Senate and House disagree.

The bill does not allow reshuffling of departments, such as War, Navy and State.

compromise up on the floor for a vote tomorrow or Thursday. He added "it ought to go right through to the White House without much trouble."

LEWIS ATTACKS TRUMAN MEASURE

Six Japanese Will Die For Decapitation of Five United States Airmen

KWAJALEIN, Marshall Islands, Dec. 11 (AP)—A United States military commission today found six Japanese officers guilty of the decapitation of five American airmen on the island of Mili in February, 1944, and sentenced them to be hanged.

Two defendants were sentenced to life imprisonment for their part in the atrocity and two others given sentences of twenty years each in prison.

The time and place of the executions were not set as the cases first must be reviewed by a higher authority.

Indonesians Are Urged To Resist British and Dutch

By VERN HAUGLAND

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 11 (AP)—Defiant Indonesian nationalist leaders called upon 70,000,000 Javanese to resist with arms and even poison any attempt to reinstate Dutch sovereignty, and demanded international recognition of their republic as a prerequisite of peace negotiations.

Prime Minister Sultan Sjahrir, of the unrecognized republic, declared Indonesians would fight further landings of British troops and a nationalist leader broadcasting from a radio station near Soerabaya threatened mass poisoning for Dutch troops.

"The Dutch are boasting they soon will bring in thousands of soldiers," said this leader, Soetomo. "What if? We are determined to annihilate them, even if we have to poison them to death."

"We have 70,000,000 behind us. It is an easy task for us to get rid of 100,000 or 200,000 enemies by poison."

Sjahrir, referring to British offers of discussion of the dispute after elimination of "extremist elements," declared:

"There can hardly be such a thing as a war against extremists alone. We never have understood who were termed extremists."

"We tell the whole world we have won independence and ask recognition," Sjahrir told a news conference. "After international recognition we are ready to negotiate a fair settlement of all outstanding problems. If, however, our independence is attacked, we are compelled to resist."

Mr. Sjahrir, 38, is chief of land forces of the Southeast Asia command, arrived from Singapore for a conference with Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, commander of Allied forces in the Netherlands East Indies, on measures for the restoration of peace in Java.

Russia Will Permit Chiang To Reinforce Troops in Manchuria

CHUNGKING, Dec. 11 (AP)—Chinese Communists intensified their raids on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's northward supply lines today as Russia agreed to permit the airborne reinforcement of Central government troops in Manchuria.

The Russo-Chinese agreement facilitating Chiang's operations in Manchuria, reached after weeks of tense negotiations, was announced by the official Central news agency. It said the Chungking government had won permission to plant itself firmly in the vast northern territory deemed vital for the recovery of war-ravaged China.

Chiang's troops will be permitted to fly into Changchun, the Manchurian capital; into Mukden, large city and vital industrial center of the territory, and into Harbin, the key to Northern Manchuria.

Jap Prince Gives Up; Homma Heads For Manila Trial

By MURLIN SPENCER

TOKYO, Wednesday, Dec. 12 (AP)—Imperial Prince Morihito, Nashimoto surrendered at Sugamo prison today, first person of court rank to be imprisoned as a war criminal suspect.

Two hours previously, Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma was started for Manila for trial on charges of condoning the Bataan death march.

Homma was accompanied by Col. Akira Nagahama, commander in chief of the Kempetai (thought police) in Manila from late 1942 until 1945, and Lt. Col. Saichi Ohta, commander of the dreaded Kempetai in the Philippines in 1942. Both Nagahama and Ohta also are accused of permitting their men to commit atrocities.

Homma's departure followed by a few hours an American announcement that trial of 300 Japanese accused of mistreating prisoners of war will begin in Yokohama next Tuesday. Several hearings will be conducted concurrently under a speedup schedule.

These defendants will not include Japan's top war criminals, such as Hideki Tojo, the premier who ordered the attack on Pearl Harbor. Dates for their trials have not been set.

Kyodo reported it learned from sources close to the imperial household ministry that Hirohito's status "in connection with the issue of war responsibility" is being discussed at length by imperial princes, the household ministry and the peers.

Even the question of the emperor system has come up for argument among peers. The news agency suggested there "may be some new developments in connection with all these important questions involving the emperor and the imperial family" when the cabinet submits its draft for a revised constitution, probably by the end of January.

"Blue Baby" Responds Slowly to Operation

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (AP)—Dr. Alfred Blacklock, professor of surgery at the Johns Hopkins hospital, said today that Judy Hackman, 2, Buckley, Wash., "blue baby" was not "coming along as well as had been expected."

He said her condition was not critical but was only "fairly good." Dr. Blacklock operated on Judy Saturday in an attempt to save her life, threatened by insufficient oxygen in her blood.

He said she has not improved as rapidly as had other patients but added that she seemed to have held her own since yesterday.

Nazis Shipped Thousands to German Labor Camps, Military Court Is Told

By NOLAND NORGAARD

NUERNBERG, Dec. 11 (AP)—Men, women and children in vast, uncourted numbers were torn from their homes and shipped to slave labor camps in Germany in a calculated Nazi "program of extermination by work," the international military tribunal was told today.

Taking up the forced labor case against the twenty-one Nazi leaders on trial, Assistant United States Prosecutor Thomas J. Dodd said the labor deportations were carried out through "terror, fraud and arson," with an utter disregard for the dignity of mankind.

He produced a document signed by Heinrich Himmler, which contained phrases such as these: "Whether nations live in prosperity or starve to death interests me only insofar as we need them as slaves for our Kultur. x x x We must be honest, decent, loyal and comradely to members of our own

800 Mills and Plants Would Be Affected; Union Demands Wage Boost of $2 a Day

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP)—The CIO-United Steel Workers, rejecting President Truman's appeal to continue at work, today set January 14 for the beginning of a general strike in the nation's steel mills.

Unless it is forestalled, the strike will be the largest in the history of American industry, affecting an estimated 700,000 workers at basic steel mills and in the allied aluminum and iron ore industries.

At issue is the steel workers' demand for a $2 a day pay increase, which was turned down by the steel companies on the ground that wages could not be raised without commensurate increases in the price of steel products.

The action, by the union's 175-man Policy committee, follows upon a strike poll conducted by the National Labor Relations Board under the terms of the Smith-Connally War Disputes Act. The vote showed more than 400,000 favoring a strike and 83,000 against.

Steel Industry Is Condemned

In the resolution calling the strike, the union declared: "It has been ninety days since the union initiated collective bargaining with the steel corporations on this wage issue. The steel workers have exercised meticulous patience. They have experienced a thorough cooling off period. They are now confronted with the industry's challenge to the very existence of the union and the right of the steel workers to earn a wage which will assure a decent standard of living."

"The membership of the United Steel Workers of America have bent every effort to avoid taking strike action. They have endeavored at all costs to accomplish a peaceful settlement of this all-important issue."

"The steel industry, because of its determined arrogance and adamant refusal to meet its public obligation, must stand condemned as being solely responsible for the present impasse."

"Over 400,000 workers throughout the nation, in a secret ballot, have given their mandate—to strike in self-protection."

"This is the solemn judgment—after careful consideration—of the steel workers, aluminum workers, and iron ore miners, under the jurisdiction of this union."

"Now therefore, be it resolved, that in accordance with the mandate of these workers, the strike shall commence on January 14, 1946, at 12:01 a. m."

Truman Labor Plan Is Assailed

In another resolution, the Policy committee said it condemned President Truman's proposed labor legislation for ending strikes.

Referring to Mr. Truman's plan to make a strike illegal during a thirty-day fact-finding period, the resolution said:

"The United Steel Workers of America is firmly and unalterably opposed to any legislation which makes strikes unlawful even though for a limited time and penalizes strikers through criminal prosecution. Compulsion to work—regardless for how brief a period—is but the first step toward industrial serfdom."

While the union claims a membership of nearly 1,000,000 only about 650,000 at some 700-odd mills and plants were affected by the strike vote taken on November 28. Approximately 50,000 more at scattered plants are to vote before December 21. Nearly 200,000 other members were claimed to be in the armed service in the union's last audit report issued in June.

The strike call would be effective at nearly 800 mills and plants from coast to coast.

Ten-year-old Russian children were snatched away with the deliberate aim of destroying the Polish people and the immediate purpose of strengthening German manpower, the documents showed.

Byrnes Will Ask Russians To Help Form Commission On Atom Energy

Disclosure Is Made on Eve of Secretary of State's Departure for Minis- ters' Conference

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The United States will seek Russian support in organizing a special United Nations commission to handle
atomic problems, Secretary of State Byrnes disclosed tonight on the eve
of his departure for Moscow.

Byrnes also revealed at a news conference that he would renew his plan for writing the peace of Europe
in a general peace conference for which preparations would be made through revived sessions of the inactive foreign ministers council at London.

Byrnes will leave for Moscow tomorrow at 9 a. m., Eastern Standard time, taking along six advisers and aides. His conferences with Soviet Commissar Molotov and British Foreign Minister Bevin are scheduled to start Saturday.

Marshall May Leave Soon
Gen. George C. Marshall may be able to leave in two days for his assignment as special ambassador for President Truman in China.

Byrnes said. A plane is ready to take off with Marshall as soon as the Pearl Harbor committee releases him. Byrnes, Marshall and the president conferred at the White House today.

Byrnes also told reporters that Britain is proposing to Russia coordinated withdrawal of their armies from Iran as soon as possible.
The British reported this in a note saying that they would not try to get out by January 1, as Washington proposed, since Russia had declined to do so.

Byrnes discussed in some detail
his plans for the Moscow meeting and revealed that while there had been an exchange of ideas on topics
to be taken up there were no prior agreements that would absolutely assure the success of the conference.

March Meeting To Be Proposed

Byrnes said he disagreed with the idea that a meeting of this kind should not be held without the problems being solved ahead of time. He said he intends to propose that another session of the three foreign ministers be held in Washington next March.

On the atomic bomb problem, as he described it, Byrnes said the initial American purpose is to inform the Soviet government about the United Nations commission agreed upon by President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee of Britain and MacKenzie King of Canada, and to learn the Russian view.

It is not planned at this time,
Byrnes said, to go into scientific questions.

Another major topic certain to come up, he said, is that of the proposal by which he sought unsuccessfully to break the five-nation
foreign minister deadlock at London in September. Russia having objected to French and Chinese participation in discussion of peace
treaties with the Balkans, Byrnes suggested that the Big Three Powers should first go over the field and that the ultimate step should be a peace conference.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—
Fifty-four members of local draft boards in each state and territory will receive medals from President Truman on January 21.

National Selective Service today disclosed plans for the ceremony
and said those to receive the medals
at the White House will be chosen through drawings. The awards to volunteer board members were authorized by Congress in recognition of their patriotic service.

U. S., Allies Must Finance Imports Into Reich, State Department Says

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—
The State department today announced a broad-scale economic policy for Germany which calls on the United States and other Allied powers to finance a program of German imports over the next two years.

Such aid will be necessary to "prevent disease and unrest" in the shattered nation, the department said. There was no estimate of the amount of money involved in the proposed financial aid, but it was believed the American share might run into hundreds of millions.

The policy statement forecasts great hardship in Germany this winter, but calls for starting a slow recovery in the spring. It is aimed at getting Germany back on its own feet economically and industrially in 1948.

This means what officials here
called a "delayed process of reconstruction" in the Reich to give a head start on postwar recovery to the European neighbors that Germany once overran.

Under the American plan, the German standard of living in 1948
would not be allowed to exceed that of its European neighbors. But neither would the ex-enemy country be reduced, officials emphasized, "to a nation of foresters and goatherds."

TINY TRIPLETS FLY ACROSS NATION

RICHARD O'BRIEN, a former paratrooper, herds his two-month-old triplets in his arms, in Atlanta, Ga., before taking off with the babies and their mother in an airplane bound for their home in Dufur, Ore. The thirty-six points of triplets were born in Fort Benning regional hospital on October 10, two months before the veteran received his discharge. The young O'Briens, Jo Ann, Jerry Leroy and Jackie Ray, took up twenty-seven pounds of space on the airliner and were the youngest set of triplets ever to fly.

Bill Outlawing Alleged Labor Racketeering Will Be Considered by House

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The House gave right of way today to legislation outlawing asserted racketeering practices by labor after sidetracking another measure aimed at contract-violating strikes.

By a vote of 259 to 198, the House
agreed to consider a bill levying heavy penalties on anyone interfering with the interstate movement of goods "by robbery or extortion." The measure itself is scheduled to be voted on tomorrow.

Earlier, the House defeated by a vote of 206 to 182 a move to bring up legislation to penalize unions violating no-strike contract provisions. Even some proponents of the measure favored delay to give more time for study of labor legislation asked by President Truman.

The anti-racketeering measure was introduced by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.) as an outgrowth of a 1942
Supreme court decision which held that the present anti-racketeering statute does not apply to labor unions. The case arose from efforts of AFL teamsters in New York city
to collect fees from drivers of trucks bringing in produce from New Jersey.

The unionists were alleged to have used "strong-arm" methods of intimidation.

Chairman Sabath (D-N.Y.), of the Rules committee, led opposition to consideration of the bill.

"I do not condone or encourage racketeering," Sabath said, "but this bill goes altogether too far. It imposes a penalty of ten years imprisonment or a $10,000 fine, which is altogether out of line with the offense. I know that the unions do not condone racketeering, have done everything possible to eliminate it,
and have succeeded."

The bill which the House voted not to consider, by rejecting a
"rule" for it, was sponsored originally by the Military committee. It would provide that unions striking in violation of contracts be denied collective bargaining rights for a year and subject to civil damage suits. It also would strengthen the ban on political contributions by

labor unions, repeal the Smith-Connally Wartime Labor Disputes
act and abolish the War Labor Board.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), shouting that
"the security of the country is in jeopardy," was a principal advocate of the rule and the bill. Cox, a member of the Rules committee, told his colleagues that "unless you embrace this opportunity" to act on labor legislation, "you will have none
other for a long time to come."

But Chairman Sabath (D-III), of the Rules committee, attacked the measure as "vicious," "ill-considered"
and "the work of 'enemies of organized labor.'"

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—
The B-29 Dreamboat was clocked over Floyd Bennett field tonight at 11:42:19 (EST) after a non-stop flight from Burbank, Calif., that set a record. The
6:15:11 (EST).

William Zindt, official timer
for the National Aeronautics Association, handled the stop watch and termed the time an official record for the distance.

The Dreamboat last November 20 made a non-stop flight
from Guam to Washington.

It also would strengthen the
ban on political contributions by
labor unions, repeal the Smith-

act and abolish the War Labor Board.

Patton Improves; Talks with Wife For Half an Hour

By JAMES F. KING

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Dec. 11
(AP)—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., paralyzed by a broken neck, was improved tonight after a half an hour talk with his wife and his condition was described officially as
"very satisfactory."

The colorful United States Army general was fully conscious, rational and taking nourishment.

Nurses attending the former Third Army commander described him as "one of their best patients" and said Patton was accepting his condition like a "true soldier."

A further neurological examination of the injured commander showed "normally active" tendon reflexes.

The medical bulletin issued at 6
p. m. omitted the phrase "prognosis guarded" for the first time since the general arrived at the One Hundred Thirtieth station hospital at Heidelberg on Sunday, after an auto crash near Mannheim. (A prognosis is a prediction or conclusion in regard to the course and termination of a disease.)

Mrs. Patton arrived at her 60-year-old husband's bedside, confident that his fighting heart would carry him through.

"I have seen George in these scrapes before, and he always comes out all right," she said.

Messages expressing concern and hope for the general's speedy recovery flooded in from all over Europe today. Among them was one from Queen Mother Elizabeth and Prince Regent Charles, of Belgium.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—A naval commander told the army's Pearl Harbor inquiry that three days before the attack the navy caught
the coded Tokyo message: "War with England, war with America,
peace with Russia."

Two copies of this, the controversial "winds execute" message,
were sent to the War department,
the naval officer related. But army officers testified that there was no record of the War department's ever receiving them.

This and other startling testimony
in the army inquiry board's report has hitherto been classified as "top secret." But the report is to be placed in the record of the congressional Pearl Harbor investigation
tomorrow and Chairman Barkley (D-Ky.) authorized its publication tonight.

The army board also received testimony:

That Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short,
the army commander at Pearl Harbor, interpreted warnings from Washington as indicating "that the War department did not believe there was going to be anything more than sabotage." Short added that "when I reported action taken and there was no comment that my action was too little or too much, I was 100 per cent convinced they
(the department) agreed with it."

Short Concedes He "Was Wrong"
That as late as November 28, 1941, Short discounted the probability of an air attack on Pearl Harbor but conceded to the army board that in this respect he "was wrong."

That the final warning Gen.
George C. Marshall sent on December 7, which arrived after the Japanese struck, "was given to a boy for delivery on a bicycle. The boy was caught in the bombing and did not deliver the message until after the attack." The reason for this, Judge Advocate General Myron C. Cramer testified, was that army radio was not working, the signal corps sent the message to San Francisco by Western Union and from there to Hawaii by RCA, and the teletype at Honolulu was not working.

The existence of the "winds execute" message has been a subject of considerable controversy. William D.
Mitchell, counsel for the congressional investigating committee, was one who said he did not believe there ever was such a message.

Previous testimony had developed that Japan had hit on various weather conditions as code for its future action and advised its outposts to watch for the tipoff.

Message Was Given to Noyes
A Comdr. Safford, head of the navy communications security division, testified before the army inquiry that on December 4, the "winds execute" message came in—intercepted by United States code crackers. It was deciphered and given immediately to Adm. Noyes, chief of communications.

Two copies were sent to the War department, Safford said, and others to the State department and the White House.

Neither the original nor copies can now be found in the files of either the War or Navy department, Cramer observed in the report.

Cramer concluded:
"There is no clear showing in the record as to what higher officers in the War department got either the original 'winds' message or the activating message, or got the brief message of November 19 as to the single code word to be inserted in the intelligence broadcasts when diplomatic relations became dangerous."

Row Marks Inquiry
Cramer said Col. Otis K. Badler, signal corps, stated that he got word from Adm. Noyes on December 5, 1941, that "the message is in"
but did nothing to ascertain its wording.

An angry row broke out at the inquiry as Democrats protested that a former Republican party worker was suggesting questions to Republicans on the joint Senate-House investigating committee.

The man in question was sitting beside Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) at the committee table. He became the center of sharp exchanges after Sen.
Lucas (D-Mo.) angrily accused him
of "prompting" the Republican senator and of "chuckling" at Democratic senators.

Ferguson identified him as Percy L. Graves, Jr., in the employ of Sen. Brewster (R-Maine) who was absent.

The compromise did not give the president all the authority he wanted, but the legislators said it granted him more power than Congress has previously given any chief executive in the matter.

"I am informed he is very pleased with the result," Chairman Manas-co (D-Ala.), of the House conferees, told a reporter.

Manasco said he would ask the compromise up on the floor for a vote tomorrow or Thursday. He added "it ought to go right through to the White House without much trouble."

Mr. Truman had asked that Congress give him the authority without naming exceptions, but the legislators insisted on giving eleven agencies whole or partial exemption.
This was a compromise between eight originally named by the House and fourteen by the Senate.

The president scored a victory in the section dealing with congressional veto powers, however. The compromise provided that any recommendations the president makes become law within sixty days unless both the Senate and House disagree.

The bill does not allow reshuffling of departments, such as War, Navy and State.

Senale Approves Hospital Funds
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Senate today approved a federal-aid program providing an outlay of an estimated $700,000,000 for construction of hospitals and health centers during the next five years.

Action sending the legislation to the House came on a voice vote
after several proposed amendments
by Sen. Wagner (D-N.Y.) and Murray (D-Mont.) were beaten down.
They said they wanted to bring the measure in line with President Truman's recent request to Congress
for a national health program.

Murray told the Senate that the bill fulfilled "only part" of President Truman's request and lacked proper federal controls over expenditure of the hospital funds in the states.

Five years ago the Senate passed a similar bill but it was allowed to die in the House.

GM Terminates Pacts with UAW; Union Prepares For Long Strike

DETROIT, Dec. 11 (AP)—The United Auto Workers (UAW) announced tonight that General Motors Corporation has "abrogated" all local agreements reached for admission of supervisory and non-production workers to strike-bound GM plants.

GM officials declined comment on the latest breach in negotiations between the UAW and GM on issues that led to a walkout of 175,000 GM production workers twenty-one days ago.

George F. Addes, UAW secretary-treasurer, revealed GM had set Thursday (2 p. m.) for the next negotiating session, but he said the company gave no reason for foregoing a Wednesday meeting.

Union Takes "Serious View"

Addes disclosed that today "there was discussion of wages, the company's cancellation of the contract
and the question of having office and supervisory personnel continue at work."

Union officials indicated unofficially that they took a "serious view" of today's events, coming as they did after GM's Monday announcement that it was immediately terminating the union contract
which was due to expire in April, 1946.

The UAW earlier today called on its members to contribute at least $1 weekly to a special international strike fund, the drive to open Saturday.

"It is apparent from the 'take it or leave it' attitude of GM that the strike will be of lengthy duration," the union said in announcing the fund-raising campaign.

The union, whose GM strike actually has made a total of 213,000
persons idle in corporation plants,
made its appeal for funds as it resumed negotiations with General Motors and awaited a reply to its "company security" counter-offer to the Ford Motor Company.

Ford Reply Is Awaited
Industry circles speculated whether an ultimate agreement with Ford over "company security" might be made a model for other company-union understandings. The Ford reply to the union proposal is expected tomorrow.

Both the company and union proposed a financial penalty against wildcat strikes. The company suggested $5 a day for each strike participant, the money to come from the union. The union proposed a $3 to $5 fine as a wage deduction from each offender.

An unconfirmed report said Ford was prepared to eliminate the checkoff and closed shop provisions of its present contract with the UAW-CIO if a satisfactory "company security" agreement were not reached.

Senate Approves Hospital Funds

ture of the hospital funds in the

Of the $700,000,000 program, the federal treasury will provide $375-000,000 through grants of $75,000-000 in each of the next five years.
States will put up matching funds varying from fifty to twenty-five per cent under a formula based upon per capita wealth and population.

Six Japanese Will Die For Decapitation of Five United States Airmen

KWAJALEIN, Marshall Islands, Dec. 11 (AP)—A United States military commission today found six Japanese officers guilty of the decapitation of five American airmen on the island of Mill in February, 1944, and sentenced them to be hanged.

Two defendants were sentenced to life imprisonment for their part in the atrocity and two others given sentences of twenty years each in prison.

The time and place of the executions were not set as the cases first must be reviewed by a higher authority.

Indonesians Are Urged To Resist British and Dutch

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 11 (AP)— Defiant Indonesian nationalist leaders called upon 70,000,000 Javanese
to resist with arms and even poison
any attempt to reinstate Dutch sovereignty, and demanded international recognition of their republic as a prerequisite of peace negotiations.

Prime Minister Sutan Sjahrir, of the unrecognized republic, declared Indonesians would fight further landings of British troops, and a nationalist leader broadcasting from a radio station near Soerabaya threatened mass poisoning for Dutch troops.

"The Dutch are boasting they soon will bring in thousands of soldiers," said this leader. "Soetomo [What of it? We are determined to annihilate them, even if we have to poison them to death.]

"We have 70,000,000 behind us.
It is an easy task for us to get rid of 100,000 or 200,000 enemies by poison."

Sjahrir, referring to British offers of discussion of the dispute after elimination of "extremist elements," declared:

"There can hardly be such a thing as a war against extremists alone. We never have understood who were termed extremists."

"We tell the whole world we have won independence and ask recognition. Sjahrir told a news conference.
After international recognition we are ready to negotiate a fair settlement of all outstanding problems.
If, however, our independence is attacked, we are compelled to resist."

ence with Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, commander of Allied forces in peace in Java.

CHUNGKING, Dec. 11 (AP)—Chi-airborne reinforcement of Central government troops in Manchuria.

The Russo-Chinese agreement facilitating Chiang's operations in Manchuria, reached after weeks of tense negotiations, was announced
by the official Central news agency.

Must We Throw These Billions Away?

There is hardly an American so naive as to believe that Great Britain will ever repay a penny of the principal, or a penny of interest, if Congress consents to a loan of American taxpayers' funds. The money, with which negotiations have been conducted in Washington for this proposed handout, and the amazing circumstances that news of what the conferees agreed was published in London before any news was released by Washington, is proof that the axe has been whetted for new inroads on the neck of the American taxpayer.

The full-fledged propaganda drive that is now under way, especially via radio, to "sell" this program to the American people is confirmation of the fact that the people are two to one opposed to gifts of the taxpayers' money to England, as disclosed by public opinion surveys.

The size of the proposed handout, $4,400,000, would be appalling if Americans had not become numb from repeated assaults on their finances. This sum takes $40 from the pocket of every American, approved by Congress. It will rob every American family of four of $160 of its money.

In the other war and after it the United States had an experience with foreign loans which Congress should be in no mood to repeat. This nation is no longer so rich that it can continue to throw its money around.

It is clear that there would be absolutely no guarantee that any of this money would ever be repaid, and any hocus-pocus that is being handed out as to "benefits" that the United States could reap as a result of this gift is just that much hogwash. England does not want this money to help American industry. It wants it to build up British industry to compete with American industry.

The future safety of this country demands that Congress begin to think in terms of America. This is a nation, not a relief station for other nations.

An Anti-Strike Step In the Right Direction

COMMENTARY is due the CIO United Auto Workers union for offering to secure the right of Ford Motor Company to fire and fine any employee found guilty of "morally instigating or giving leadership" to a wildcat strike.

The union made the proposal to the Ford company in answer to Ford's own proposed "company security" plan under which the union would be asked $5 a day for each worker taking part in an unauthorized strike.

This unprecedented move for the motor car industry is a step toward sharing responsibility in union labor contracts, lack of which has been one of the glaring defects of the Wagner Labor Act.

Certainly if an industry gives the union security through a closed shop and the check-off, it is only fair that the union in return give some tangible guarantee for security for the company.

The proposal is double-edged. The union asks Ford to agree that there would be no lockouts and that management would not engage in provocations leading to unauthorized strikes. This may be superfluous in view of the responsibilities vested upon employers by the Wagner act and supreme court decisions thereunder, but it is fair enough even so. Financial penalties were imposed against persons responsible for such company provocations, and an umpire would determine the guilt or innocence of an employee charged with taking part in a wildcat strike.

The concession, is not the whole answer to irresponsible and uncontrollable strikes that have hampered industry so much in recent years, but it is a step in the right direction. The sooner organized labor can assert its control over its members, the better it will be all around.

The Post Office Lock Box Boost

As the news columns have announced, our affable postmaster, "Jim" Shriver has given notice that the rental of lock boxes at the Cumberland post office will be boosted fifty cents and $1 each quarter, depending on the size, come January 1. Patrons should not blame Mr. Shriver for this, however, if they are nurturing any blame for it. As has been stated, it is only carrying out orders, which orders have come in accordance with postal regulations from the third assistant postmaster general, who has such matters in charge.

It is a rather curious thing from the viewpoint of the public that the more business that is done by a post office the higher the charge is made for its use. That is a reversal of the usual procedure in business. When you buy a small package or bottle of anything it costs more; the larger the package the cheaper the article or commodity. The more frequent the turnover of merchandise in a store the cheaper the product becomes. If you use more gas or electricity or water the lower the rate becomes. And mass production brings the price of manufactured articles downward in quantity ratio.

But with the public postal utility the rate goes the other way in this one particular and naturally the patron wonders why. He is inclined to the belief that if this is the result of law, the law ought to be made to conform with modern ideas of volume production. Whether it is a specific law or a regulation made under authority of a general law, he does know and hasn't the time to spare in digging up the fact, but it makes little difference to him except for his dis-ference to him except for his distaste for bureaucratic rule.

Postmaster's salaries are gauged by the volume of business transacted. The larger the business the larger the salary. That seems fair enough in order to attract the right kind of personnel. But why the public should be nicked in the process seems rather queer.

There are two little bright spots in this picture, however. One is that the business at the local postoffice is expanding, thus reflecting a growing community with expanding business. The other little spot is that the lock box rates won't be boosted again until the annual revenue of the local office goes beyond a million dollars, which is quite a stride from the $300,000 under which the new rates are imposed.

The Employment Bill Gets a Better Name

A CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE considering President Truman's "full employment" legislation has substituted for the original measure a "high-level employment" measure. What the other distinctions between the two bills are is not too clear, but there is no doubt that the term, "full employment," implies too much.

The "full employment" measure provided that the president, after advice from industry, labor, agriculture and government, is to present to Congress each year a national job production budget. If the estimate shows production prospects great enough to maintain a high level of employment, well and good. But if the indications are that private enterprise can not employ enough workers to prevent mass unemployment, the government, by vote of Congress, would step in to help create sufficient jobs.

There was nothing mandatory in the bill, according to its proponents, beyond requiring Congress to set up a committee to study the production-employment budget. Should some action to relieve the situation be deemed advisable, the committee would so report to Congress, and from there out the decisions on how to act would be up to Congress. But of course Congress could act without a "full employment" bill.

Perhaps for psychological reasons, the designation, "high-level employment," is better than "full employment." Actually the bill as approved by the congressional committee seems to differ little from that proposed by the president.

Life-Saving as A Yuletide Gift

NEARLY 57,000 AMERICANS died last year of tuberculosis.

Yet the disease can be prevented and controlled.

Tuberculosis and health associations through their educational programs attempt to impress that upon the minds of more and more persons each year.

Success of its work of course means lives saved.

This work can be successful only if the associations are adequately provided with funds. Buying Christmas Seals helps that work.

Christmas Seal buying is becoming one of Cumberland and Allegany county's yuletide habits, and it's an easy way to accomplish much good.

William J. Edwards, chairman of the Christmas Seal sale in Allegany county, reports that sale of seals is lagging and urges more co-operation on the part of Allegany county citizens.

Buying Christmas Seals is worthwhile and many more persons should buy them. Those who have not purchased seals should do so without further delay, and in so doing they will help a fine cause and Christmas this year will really mean more for having taken a part in this worthy undertaking.

Watch your hen roost, advises a nearby weekly newspaper.

That is to say, keep your eye on the chickens. But that is an occupation which has not altogether been neglected of late.

Scientific studies show the average baby cries only 7.8 per cent of the time, but some of our friends who recently became fathers are certain that it seems longer.

Courtesy is the first requirement of an undertaker, an exchange advertisement recently carried in one of the first requirements of any undertaking.

Many children of the present insist upon bringing up their parents in the way they shouldn't.

CONFIDENCE

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

What this world needs more than anything else is old-fashioned confidence! There is one thing about confidence and that is, it never is out of date. It is the spark plug of progress. Personal confidence, confidence in the government, and confidence in the future of one's job.

This confidence rests upon co-operation. Capital and labor must have confidence in each other. Both are essential to the success of each. Confidence in our government, our war leaders, and our boys gave us the victory that we now have, but that victory can be sabotaged by a lack of confidence.

Many a temporary program must be initiated to create this confidence, for without it the machinery of full employment cannot be met. And it must be met! Our returning soldiers did not misplace our confidence in them. We cannot fail them now that they are back and need a job.

Industry and labor alone can furnish the essential spur to give confidence that will defeat all tendencies to confusion, and disastrous and tragic revolutionary upsets to orderly democratic procedures.

Labor is deserving of the fruits of its labor, but there must be an all-round justice that will not defeat its objectives. No matter how great producer becomes, a decent wage alone can assure the absorption of this increased production. And this decent wage is what gives confidence to the future of both the producer and the worker.

Strife must end if we are to reap the benefits of the victory that we have won, through "blood, sweat, and tears." No steps taken can be either important or successful unless all-round confidence results. It is the spur to happiness. Each tomorrow must be filled with a more hopeful zest for life and usefulness.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Secret Dinner to Promote British Loan Did Not Win Legislators, Pearson Says

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Congressional leaders attended a secret State department dinner at Blair House—usually reserved for foreign potentates—in order to hear a sales talk on the loan to Britain.

Sales-talkers were Secretary of State Byrnes, Assistant Secretary Will Clayton, Secretary of the Treasury Vinson and Federal Reserve Governor Marriner Eccles. Congressional listeners were: Senators George (Ga.), Vandenberg (Mich.), White (Me.), Tobey (N.H.), Wagner (N.Y.), Connally (Texas), Austin (Vt.) and Representatives Bloom (N.Y.), Eaton (N.J.), Spence (Ky.) and Wolcott (Mich.).

The legislators listened but were not pleased—especially over the fact that they had not been consulted before all details were arranged. Both Tom Connally and Walter George made this point. Also they felt we had not won sufficient assurance that Britain would end discriminatory trade practices.

When President Roosevelt received White House callers he usually did three-fourths of the talking. When President Truman receives callers he usually does seven-eighths of the listening. But sometimes he fools people. Here are two recent cases where he used widely varying techniques.

Last week Congressman Koppelman, of Hartford, Conn., called at the White House to discuss strategy for winning congressional approval of the bill defending our participation in the United Nations. Six months before Rep. Sol Bloom and Senator Tom Connally had introduced their bills for sending U. S. representatives to UNO. Koppelman had beat them to it with a similar bill.

The president listened carefully as Koppelman told him of GOP plans to introduce in the House the same crippling amendments offered by Senator Taft, of Ohio, though finally defeated.

As Koppelman was about to leave, Truman spoke almost his first word. "Mr. Koppelman," he said, "I'm glad you came in. I know of your deep interest in this legislation and appreciate your advice. I will discuss it with the speaker and the majority leader."

"Perhaps you noticed that I was making notes while we were talking. I like to do that when I talk with people—because so often I find there is much I can learn from the people who come to this office."

Truman Talks

One day earlier, however, it was a different story, when the president's old cronies of the Truman committee (now the Mead committee) came up to talk about the way the army is hoarding surplus material.

Chairman Jim Mead, of New York, and Committee Counsel George Meader had prepared a detailed report showing how the army is hoarding millions of blankets, sheets, undergarments and other surplus goods. The document was read to the committee before he could get into it, the president took over.

"Yes, I know about that, Jim," said Truman. "I've been doing a lot of thinking about this whole question of surplus disposal and I'm going to work out a new scheme to push the stuff out. I'm going to give the whole sales job to the RFC, and put some top-flight merchandisers in there. We'll put merchandisers in the RFC regional offices, too, to get the goods moving. I know some of you don't like the way the RFC has been functioning, but it is the organization which has regional offices already set up, and I think it will be better to work through an operating set-up."

Truman then continued to do most of the talking. He told the committee that the Smaller War Plants Corporation would be kept in the picture as a claiming agency for small business and veterans, and talk at length of the urgency of getting surplus property moved.

Truman Trusts Army

Senator Harley Kilgore, of West Virginia, interrupted at one point to remark:

"But, Harry, all this merchandising is a fine idea if you can see to it that the army will declare these goods surplus."

Kilgore and Senator Brewster, of Maine, made the further point that there must be some assurance that the army declare commercially valuable goods surplus.

"You're perfectly right about that," Truman agreed, but he did not offer any assurance that he would take steps to see that the army upholds its attitude seemed to be that the brass hats will come around to it shortly.

Mead never did get more than started on his report of army stockpiling because Truman did practically all the talking. Apparently, he felt that was right back in his old job of committee chairman.

As the senators left, Mead shook hands with the president and had walked halfway to the door before he remembered that he was still holding the special report in his hand. Returning to the president's desk, he said:

"We made this up for you, Harry, and I guess we might as well leave it. You seem to know the story, but anyhow the details are here."

formed and ready to play its part in influencing settlements that mean peace.

The American press is the freest in the whole world. Here in the United States newspapers, radio and press associations actually gather and distribute more news about what is happening in the world and publish more today than does the press of any other country. Likewise, the American press is less influenced by its own government's policy even in foreign affairs than is the British or the French or the Russian press. The one way to make sure that the truth is getting out to the peoples of the world is to let the American publicity system operate in its maximum, just as it did in San Francisco.

Less Secrecy Likely

This correspondent was at the Paris peace conference and has observed the workings of other international conferences since that time. European governments still feel that the press must directly or indirectly follow the pattern set forth by the professional diplomats. It was the American press which made a vigorous, though unsuccessful fight for full publicity at the Paris peace conference, and the position has never been abated since.

If the United Nations selects a state in the United States it will be a death blow to some of the voters of power politics who like to play shrewd international games and pursue secret maneuvers behind the scenes. The American government, with its professional diplomats, has at times catered to the same point of view. There will be some chance of diplomatic secrecy producing international complications if American public opinion is fully informed.

Russian Support Significant

Russia is suspicious of other countries and her suspicions will not be diminished if the United Nations headquarters is put in the atmosphere of European rivalries and imperialisms. The Russian know because of their experience at San Francisco that an international conference held in America gives them the fullest opportunity to present their views to the press of this country. The Russian support for the selection of an American city is not without significance.

As for the exact location inside the United States, this is a secondary matter. The primary task is to insure the continued interest of the American people in the UNO. This cannot be accomplished by removing the seat of the new organization to some small country in Europe where secrecy will have the maximum opportunity and the doctrine of "open covenants openly arrived at" can be so easily ignored because of the handicaps of communications and the remoteness from the American people.

Truman Fact Plan Hits Competition, Pettengill Says

By SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL

Instead of building up the power of government over labor unions, we should build down the power of labor unions over government.

President Truman has acted with courage, but it is not likely that his course will long please anyone, himself included.

He wants the fact-finding machinery of the Railway Labor act applied to big industry—steel, petroleum, automobiles, etc. On the face of things, this looks smooth and shiny, but below the surface there are vital differences.

The railroad labor brotherhoods are old in the game; their leaders are experienced, responsible and American. None, like Reuther of the Automobile Workers and Hillman of the C. I. O., served an apprenticeship in Russia. With few exceptions, railroad labor believes in our way of life; they have often put their weight behind management to improve the railroad picture, even though they "featherbedded" their own nests.

Prices Controlled

In addition, the railroads are public utilities. Their prices (freight and passenger rates) are controlled by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The trains must run. They cannot postpone their service. Hence, railway management has little or no option to reject the end result.

Proposal To Place UNO in Europe Is Declared Illogical

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The United States has always been and always will be the logical country to house the headquarters of an international organization to preserve peace. But for some strange reason there has been circulated here and in London in the last few weeks propaganda designed to place the headquarters in some European country.

The propaganda is not openly in favor of any large country in Europe but the emphasis usually is on the "small" country. The line of argument, curiously enough, insists that if the United Nations Organization is located in America, it will be influenced too much by American publicity and American policies.

This type of comment then proceeds to urge that some small country in Europe be chosen so that the organization will not appear to be "dominated" by any nation.

No more unrealistic statement of the problem could be made. For everyone who has the slightest familiarity with international affairs knows that no nation hesitates to speak frankly through its delegates no matter where the international conference is held. If anything, the host country is under the special obligation to refrain from doing anything that could be construed as exercising undue influence.

But One Argument

There is one argument—and it is the only argument—for locating the United Nations Organization in America. European governments have always been interested in world problems but the people of the United States have been only intermittently interested. If the United Nations Organization is to succeed, it must have the searchlight of full publicity playing on it all the time, so that American public opinion will be constantly in-

of the Railway Labor act, whatever it may be.

Nor has the act been a howling success from the standpoint of fairness and impartiality. Quite the contrary. Most of its fact-finding boards have been pro-labor and were intended to be. If they didn't give labor all it wanted, labor appealed to the White House or to Congress to get the verdicts rewritten upward.

A railway strike was threatened two years ago. We witnessed the unedifying spectacle of President Roosevelt and Congress acting to overrule the decisions of the presidential boards and of Economic Stabilizer Vinson himself. Has the country so soon forgotten that Mr. Truman, then senator, himself introduced a bill to legislate a wage increase, thus overruling the fact-finding agencies? In short, another political answer to an economic problem. His bill passed the Senate but died in the House because by then the matter had been settled.

In Wrong Direction

Does Mr. Truman, as president, think that other senators will not follow the precedent which he established as senator? It is a vain hope.

No, the Truman move is in the wrong direction. It further concentrates economic power in political hands, which is the essence of fascism. If Congress passes his bill, it will have brought down on its head (and on the White House) intolerable pressures that will sink them up to their necks in every major wage dispute from now on.

Wage questions will enter every campaign for Congress, Congress and the White House will be impounded to "pack" the fact-finding boards, to pressure them when appointed, to overrule them when they have acted.

In the frame of the present political picture, I have small confidence that the new "fact-finding" bodies would command public confidence—the only justification for them at all. Management representatives at the recent labor-management conference were blind indeed to the political noose hanging over their necks when they endorsed the "fact-finding" gadget.

Cartel Danger Seen

Take the question whether corporate profits should be assigned by compulsion to labor, and to what extent, if at all. How could a fact-finding body make a wage recommendation on this angle which would command public confidence?

Without giving the public the facts on the question? And how could that be done without further impairing the competitive positions of the automobile companies, and thus gradually turning all industry into public utilities (whether called so or not) or huge nation wide cartels in which big industry and big labor would gang up on the consumer as they do in England?

Must We Throw These Billions Away?

THIRTEEN IS hardly an American
so naive as to believe that Great Britain will ever repay a penny of the principal, or a penny of interest,
if Congress consents to a loan of American taxpayers' funds. The secrecy with which negotiations
have been conducted in Washington for this proposed bailout, and the amazing circumstances that news of what the conferees agreed was published in London before any news was released by Washington, is proof that the axe has been whetted for new inroads on the neck of the American taxpayer.

The full-fledged propaganda drive that is now under way, especially via radio, to "sell" this program to the American people is confirmation of the fact that the people are two to one opposed to gifts of the taxpayers' money to England, as disclosed by public opinion surveys.

The size of the proposed bailout,
$4,400,000, would be appalling if Americans had not become numb
from repeated assaults on their finances. This sum takes $40 from the pocket of every American. If approved by Congress, it will rob every American family of four of $180 of its money.

In the other war and after it the United States had an experience with foreign loans which Congress should be in no mood to repeat.
This nation is no longer so rich that it can continue to throw its money around.

It is clear that there would be absolutely no guarantee that any of this money would ever be repaid,
and any hocus-pocus that is being handed out as to "benefits" that the United States could reap as a result of this gift is just that much hogwash. England does not want this money to help American industry.
It wants it to build up British industry to compete with American industry.

The future safety of this country demands that Congress begin to think in terms of America. This is a nation, not a relief station for other nations.

An Anti-Strike Step In the Right Direction

COMMENDATION is due the CIO United Auto Workers union for offering to secure the right of the Ford Motor Company to fire and fine
any employee found guilty of "infamous, instigating or stirring leadership" to a wildcat strike.

The union made the proposal to the Ford company in answer to Ford's own proposed "company security" plan under which the union would be assessed $5 a day for each worker taking part in an unauthorized strike.

This unprecedented move for the motor car industry is a step toward sharing responsibility in union labor contracts, lack of which has been one of the glaring defects of the Wagner Labor act.

Certainly if an industry gives the union security through a closed shop
and the check-off, it is only fair that the union in return give some tangible guarantee for security for the company.

The proposal is double-edged. The union asks Ford to agree that there would be no lockouts and that management would not engage in provocation leading to unauthorized strikes. This may be superfluous in view of the responsibilities vested upon employers by the Wagner act
and supreme court decisions thereunder, but it is fair enough even
so. Financial penalties would be imposed against persons responsible for such company provocations, and an unfair would determine the guilt or innocence of an employee charged with taking part in a wildcat strike.

The concession is not the whole
answer to irresponsible and uncontrolled strikes that have hampered industry so much in recent years,
but it is a step in the right direction. The union, organized labor can assert its control over its members, the better it will be all around.

The Post Office Lock Box Boost

As the news columns have announced, our affable postmaster
"Jim" Shriver has given notice that the rental of lock boxes at the Cumberland post office will be boosted fifty cents and $1 each quarter, depending on the size, come January 1.
Patrons should not blame Mr.
Shriver for this, however, if they are nurturing any blame for it. As has been stated, he is only carrying out orders, which orders have come in accordance with postal regulations from the third assistant postmaster in charge, who has such matters in general.

It is a rather curious thing from the viewpoint of the public that the more business that is done by a post office the higher the charge is made for its use. That is a reversal of the usual procedure in business. When you buy a small package or bottle of anything it costs more; the larger the package
the cheaper the article or commodity. The more frequent the turnover of merchandise in a store
the cheaper the product becomes. If you use more gas or electricity or water the lower the rate becomes.
And mass production brings the prices of manufactured articles downward in quantity ratio.

But with the public postal utility,
the rate goes the other way in this one particular and naturally the patron wonders why. He is inclined to the belief that, if this is the result of law, the law ought to be made to conform with modern ideas of volume production. Whether it is a specific law or a regulation made under authority of a general law, he does know and hasn't the time to spare in digging up the fact, but it makes little difference to him except for his dislike for bureaucratic rule.

Postmasters' salaries are gauged
by the volume of business transacted. The larger the business the larger the salary. That seems fair enough in order to attract the right kind of personnel. But why the public should be nicked in the process seems rather queer.
There are two little bright spots in this picture, however. One is that the business at the local postoffice is expanding, thus reflecting a growing community with expanding business. The other little spot is that the lock box rates won't be boosted again until the annual revenue of the local office goes beyond a million dollars, which is quite a stride from the $300,000 under which the new rates are imposed.

The Employment Bill Gets a Better Name

A CONGRESSIONAL COMMIT-TEE considering President Truman's "full employment" legislation has substituted for the original measure
a "high-level employment" measure.
What the other distinction between the two bills are is not too clear,
but there is no doubt that the term,
"full employment," implies too much.

The "full employment" measure provided that the president, after advice from industry, labor, agriculture and government, is to present to Congress each year a national job production budget. If the estimates show production prospects
great enough to maintain a high level of employment, well and good.
But if the indications are that private enterprise can not employ enough workers to prevent mass unemployment, the government, by vote of Congress, would step in to help create sufficient jobs.

There was nothing mandatory in the bill, according to its proponents,
beyond requiring Congress to set up a committee to study the production-employment budget. Should some action to relieve the situation
be deemed advisable, the committee would so report to Congress, and from there out the decisions on how to act would be up to Congress. But of course Congress could act without a "full employment" bill.

Perhaps for psychological reasons,
the designation, "high-level employment," is better than "full employment." Actually the bill as approved by the congressional committee
seems to differ little from that proposed by the president.

Life-Saving as A Yuletide Gift

NEARLY 57,000 AMERICANS died
last year of tuberculosis.
Yet the disease can be prevented
and controlled.
Tuberculosis and health associations through their educational programs attempt to impress that upon the minds of more and more persons each year.

Success of its work of course
means lives saved.
This work can be successful only
if the associations are adequately provided with funds. Buying Christmas Seals helps that work.

Christmas Seal buying is becoming one of Cumberland and Alle-gany county's yuletide habits, and it's an easy way to accomplish much good.

William J. Edwards, chairman of the Christmas Seal sale in Alle-gany county, reports that sale of seals is lagging and urges more co-operation on the part of Allegheny county citizens.

Buying Christmas Seals is worthwhile and many more persons should buy them. Those who have not purchased seals should do so without further delay, and in so doing they will help a fine cause and Christmas this year will really mean more for having taken a part in this worthy undertaking.

Watch your hen roost, advises a nearby weekly newspaper. That is to say, keep your eye on the chickens. But that is an occupation which has not altogether been neglected of late.

Scientific studies show the average baby cries only 7.8 per cent of the time, but some of our friends who recently became fathers are certain that it seems longer.

Courtesy is the first requirement
of an undertaker, an exchange advertisement reads. It is also one of the first requirements of any undertaking.

Many children of the present install upon bringing up their parents in the way they shouldn't.

After everything's said and done,
more's said than done.

CONFIDENCE

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
What this world needs more than anything else is old-fashioned confidence! There is one thing about confidence and that is, it never is out of date. It is the spark plug of progress. Personal confidence, confidence in the government and confidence in the future of one's job.

This confidence rests upon cooperation. Capital and labor must have confidence in each other. Both are essential to the success of each.
Confidence in our government, our war leaders, and our boys gave us
the victory that we now have, but that victory can be sabotaged by a lack of confidence.

Many a temporary program must be initiated to create this confidence, for without it the machinery
of full employment cannot be met.
And it must be met! Our returning soldiers did not misplace our confidence in them. We cannot fail them now that they are back and need a job.

Industry and labor alone can furnish the essential spur to give confidence that will defeat all evil tendencies to confusion, and disastrous and tragic revolutionary up-sets to orderly democratic procedure.

Labor is deserving of the fruits of its labor, but there must be an all-round justice that will not defeat its objectives. No matter how great production becomes, a decent wage alone can assure the absorption of this increased production.
And this decent wage is what gives confidence to the future of both the producer and the worker.
Strife must end if we are to reap
the benefits of the victory that we have won, through "blood, sweat, and tears." No steps can be made either important or successful unless all-round confidence results. It is the spur to happiness. Each tomorrow must be filled with a more hopeful zest for life and usefulness.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Secret Dinner To Promote British Loan Did Not Win Legislators, Pearson Says

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. — Congressional leaders attended a secret
State department dinner at Blair House—usually reserved for foreign potentates—in order to hear a sales
talk on the loan to Britain.

Sales-talkers were Secretary of State Byrnes, Assistant Secretary
Will Clayton, Secretary of the Treasury Vinson and Federal Reserve Governor Marriner Eccles.
Congressional listeners were Senators George (Ga.), Vandenberg (Mich.), White (Me.), Tobey (N.H.), Wagner (N.Y.), Connally (Texas),
Austin (Vt.) and Representatives
Bloom (N.Y.), Eaton (N.J.), Spence (Ky.), and Wolcott (Mich.).

The legislators listened, but were not pleased—especially over the fact that they had not been consulted before the details were arranged.
Both Tom Connally and Walter George made this point. Also they felt we had not won sufficient assurance that Britain would end discrimination trade practices.

What bothered them most, however, was the idea that the British loan might mean further large loans
to other countries.

"After this loan, who is to be next?" Senator George wanted to know. "Is Russia next?"

"Russia doesn't need any large loan from us," replied Secretary Byrnes, "and if they ask for it I certainly won't approve it."

This prompted an implicit question
from Senator Vandenberg.

"Is that the way to foster closer relations with the Russians?" he asked. Then he went on to remark that it doesn't help matters at all to open our treasury to the British and then close it to the Russians and others.

To Pass Senate First

One reason for the secret dinner was to discuss the best strategy for winning congressional approval.
Vinson and Byrnes were both worried about House reaction, feeling that lengthy and acrimonious public debate over the loan would be bad
for our relations with the British.
Although they expected eventual House approval, they felt it would go through with less difficulty and embarrassment if the Senate were to vote first.

Usual procedure on all matters involving appropriations, however, is for the House to consider the legislation first.

But the senators, still irked because they had not been consulted
during the negotiations, were in no mood to make the winning of congressional sanction for the loan easier than they had to.

Instead of agreeing that the conference held in America gave them
the fullest opportunity to present their views to the press of this country, The Russian support for
the selection of an American city
is not without significance.

As for the exact location inside
the United States, this is a secondary matter. The primary task is to insure the continued interest of
the American people in the UNO.
This cannot be accomplished by removing the seat of the new organization to some small country in Europe where secrecy will have the maximum opportunity and the doctrine of "open covenants openly arrived at" can be so easily ignored
because of the handicaps of communications and the remoteness
from the American people.

Virginia, interrupted at one point
to remark:

"But, Harry, all this merchandising is a fine idea if you can see to it that the army will declare these goods surplus."

Kilgore and Senator Brewster,
of Maine, made the further point
that the army declare commercially valuable goods surplus.

"You're perfectly right about that," Truman agreed, but he did not offer any assurance that he would take steps to see that the army unloads. His attitude seemed to be that the brass hats will come around to it shortly.

Mead never did get more than started on his report of army stockpiling because Truman did practically all the talking. Apparently,
he felt he was right back in his old job of committee chairman.

As the senators left, Mead shook hands with the president and had walked halfway to the door before he remembered that he was still holding the special report in his hand. Returning to the president's desk, he said:

"We made this up for you, Harry,
and I guess we might as well leave it. You seem to know the story, but anyhow the details are here."

As the committee left the White House, one Republican senator remarked, "Harry never used to dominate our meetings as much as he did today. I've never known him to carry the ball all alone like that.
That's the way FDR used to act
when we'd call on him. I'm worried about Harry."

formed and ready to play its part in influencing settlements that mean peace.

The American press is the freest
in the whole world. Here in the United States newspapers, radio and press associations actually gather and distribute more news about what is happening in the world and publish more today than does the press of any other country. Likewise, the American press is less influenced by its own government's policy even in foreign affairs than is the British or the French or the Russian press. The one way to make sure that the truth is getting out to the peoples of the world is to let the American publicity system operate to its maximum, just as it did in San Francisco.

Less Secrecy Likely

This correspondent was at the Paris peace conference and has observed the workings of other international conferences since that time. European governments still feel that the press must directly or indirectly follow the pattern set forth by the professional diplomats.
It was the American press which made a vigorous, though unsuccessful fight for full publicity at the Paris peace conference, and the position has never been abated since.
The United Nations selects a stage in the United States. It will be a death blow to some of the devoted of power politics who like to play shrewd international games
and pursue secret maneuvers behind the scenes. The American government, with its professional diplomats, has at times catered to the same point of view. There will be less chance of diplomatic secrecy producing international complications if American public opinion is fully informed.

Russian Support Significant

Russia is suspicious of other countries and her suspicions will not be diminished if the United Nations headquarters is put in the atmosphere of European rivalries and imperialisms. The Russians know because of their experience at San Francisco that an international conference held in America gives them the fullest opportunity to present their views to the press of this country. The Russian support for
the selection of an American city
is not without significance.

As for the exact location inside
the United States, this is a secondary matter. The primary task is to insure the continued interest of
the American people in the UNO.
This cannot be accomplished by re-

Truman Fact Plan Hits Competition, Pettengill Says

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Instead of building up the power
of government over labor unions,
we should build down the power
of labor unions over government.

President Truman has acted with courage, but it is not likely that his course will long please anyone, himself included.

He wants the fact-finding machinery of the Railway Labor act applied to big industry—steel, petroleum, automobiles, etc. On the face of things, this looks smooth and shiny, but below the surface
there are vital differences.

The railroad labor brotherhoods
are old in the game; their leaders are experienced, responsible and American. None, like Reuther of the Automobile Workers and Hillman of the C. I. O., served an apprenticeship in Russia. With few exceptions, railway labor believes in our way of life; they have often put their weight behind management to improve the railroad picture, even though they "featherbedded" their own nests.

Prices Controlled

In addition, the railroads are public utilities. Their prices (freight and passenger rates) are controlled by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The trains must run. They cannot postpone their service. Hence, railway management has little or no option to reject the end result of the Railway Labor act, whatever it may be.

Nor has the act been a howling success from the standpoint of fairness and impartiality. Quite the contrary. Most of its fact-finding boards have been pro-labor and were intended to be. If they didn't give labor all it wanted, labor appealed to the White House or to Congress
to get the verdicts rewritten upward.
A railway strike was threatened two years ago. We witnessed the unending spectacle of President Roosevelt and Congress acting to overrule the decisions of the presidential boards and of Economic Stabilizer Vinson himself. Has the country so soon forgotten that Mr.
Truman, then senator, himself introduced a bill to legislate a wage increase, thus overruling the fact-finding agencies? In short, another political answer to an economic problem. His bill passed the Senate but died in the House because by then the matter had been settled.

In Wrong Direction

Does Mr. Truman, as president, think that other senators will not follow the precedent which he established as senator? It is a vain hope.
No, the Truman move is in the wrong direction. It further con-fuses economic power in political hands, which is the essence of fac-
ism. If Congress passes his bill, it will have brought down on its head (and on the White House)
intolerable pressures that will sink them up to their necks in every major wage dispute from now on.
Wage questions will enter every campaign for Congress. The congress and the White House will be forced to "pack" the fact-finding boards, to pressure them when appointed, to overrule them when they have acted.

In the frame of the present political picture, I have small confidence that the new "fact-finding" bodies
would command public confidence
—the only justification for them at all. Management representatives at the recent labor-management conference were blind indeed to the political noose hanging over their necks when they endorsed the "fact-finding" gadget.

Cartel Danger Seen

Take the question whether corporate profits should be assigned by compulsion to labor, and to what extent, if at all. How could the fact-finding body make a wage recommendation on this angle which
would command public confidence
without giving the public the facts on the question? And how could ism, fascism, or communism.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPF

I spent all yesterday afternoon
at Joe's barber shop on Vine street kibitzing. Paramount sent me over there after work to pick up some pointers because I'm playing the part of a barber in my new picture, "Monsieur Beaucaire," and there have been a few complaints about my hot-towel technique. In one scene I was shaving Reginald Owen and, by the time the director yelled, "cut!" I'd already beaten him it six times.

I'm happy about the part, though.
The action is laid in the eighteenth century and being in a story that's two hundred years old makes my jokes seem topical.

I couldn't go to my regular barber, Hjalmar, because I've let my hair grow so long for the picture that every time he sees me he starts picketing my scalp. Incidentally, it's not true that I've grown a beard
... it's just that my sideburns are knotted under my chin.

Joe's is one of the town's most modern, up-to-date clip joints. In fact, their copies of the national picture magazines are only four years old.

But, along with everything else,
there's a shortage of barbers out here and it takes a long time to get your hair cut. Imagine having to stand in line in Hollywood to get trimmed! You can't just walk in and sit down in the chair anymore, either! You have to make an appointment first with the barber's agent, then draw up a contract with options for shampoo and tonic.

And the barbers are very important nowadays. In fact, Joe's isn't called "Joe's" anymore. . . it's called "Tonsorial Productions, Inc." And every time an actor gets a haircut, Louella Parsons comes down to review it.

the automobile companies, and thus gradually turning all industry into public utilities (whether called so or which big industry and big labor would gang up on the consumer as they do in England?

No, this is one more step away
from American Jeffersonian democracy and toward European socialism, fascism, or communism.

LaVale Club Elects Mrs. John C. Fisher New President

The LaVale Homemakers Club held its annual covered dish luncheon and Christmas program Monday at the LaVale firemen's hall; and during the business session elected two officers for the two year term.

Mrs. F. H. Ankeney, first president of the club, conducted the election, when Mrs. John C. Fisher was chosen president and Mrs. John Spross, treasurer. Mrs. Fisher will appoint her chairmen at the January meeting.

Mrs. Albert Tase, nutrition chairman, was in charge of the luncheon. The Christmas motif was carried out in the pine and candle centerpieces and the red and green color scheme was repeated in the favors, candy cups and Christmas place cards. Covers were laid for forty-one guests and two visitors.

The history of the carol, "Little Town of Bethlehem," was given by Mrs. Edith Comp, after which the group sang the hymn. All members answered the roll call with, "What Christmas Means To Me." A well-fare collection of all kinds of canned food was taken and will be given to a needy family in that vicinity.

A talk was given by Miss Mary Brengle, art chairman, on artistic wrapping of packages. After which a playlet, "The Visit of Santa Claus To the LaVale Club" was presented with Mrs. W. S. Sparks, Mrs. George Ward and Mrs. C. D. Frost taking part. Mrs. William R. Eyer portrayed Santa and presented a jingle gift to each guest. The program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Claude T. Jett, Mrs. Dudley Brown and Mrs. William Lee. It closed with a vested group singing Christmas carols. The group was composed of Mrs. Joseph Wheeler, Mrs. C. G. Ort, Mrs. Charles Long, Mrs. Comp, Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. J. H. G. Miller.

LaVale Club Elects Mrs. John C. Fisher New President

The LaVale Homemakers Club held its annual covered dish luncheon and Christmas program Monday at the LaVale firemen's hall; and during the business session elected two officers for the two year term.

Mrs. F. H. Ankeney, first president of the club, conducted the election, when Mrs. John C. Fisher was chosen president and Mrs. John Spross, treasurer. Mrs. Fisher will appoint her chairmen at the January meeting.

Mrs. Albert Tase, nutrition chairman, was in charge of the luncheon. The Christmas motif was carried out in the pine and candle centerpieces and the red and green color scheme was repeated in the favors, candy cups and Christmas place cards. Covers were laid for forty-one guests and two visitors.

The history of the club, "Little Town of Bethlehem," was given by Mrs. Edith Comp, after which the group sang the hymn. All members answered the roll call with, "What Christmas Means To Me." A well-fare collection of all kinds of canned food was taken and will be given to a needy family in that vicinity.

A talk was given by Miss Mary Brengle, art chairman, on artistic wrapping of packages. After which a playlet, "The Visit of Santa Claus To the LaVale Club," was presented with Mrs. W. S. Sparks, Mrs. George Ward and Mrs. C. D. Frost taking part. Mrs. William R. Eyer portrayed Santa and presented a jingle gift to each guest. The program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Claude T. Jeff, Mrs. Dudley Brown and Mrs. William Lee.

It closed with a vested group singing Christmas carols. The group was composed of Mrs. Joseph Wheeler, Mrs. C. G. Ort, Mrs. Charles Long, Mrs. Comp, Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. J. H. G. Miller.

Beulah Nelson Becomes Bride of William B. Martz

Ceremony Is Performed in SS. Peter and Paul Church Rectory

Miss Beulah Nelson, daughter of Mrs. William Nelson, Sr., Eckhart, became the bride of William B. Martz, son of Mrs. William B. Martz, 520 North Mechanic street, Monday evening.

The ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock in SS. Peter and Paul church rectory, with the Rev. Father Fabian, O. F. M. Cap. officiating and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Amato as the attendants.

The bride was attired in a beige wool suit, with which she wore black accessories. An orchid corsage completed her costume. Her matron of honor wore a light gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of Beall high school, Frostburg and Frostburg State Teachers college. She is employed on the staff of the Celanese Corporation of America.

The bridegroom is a graduate of LaSalle high school and Villa Nova college, Philadelphia. He is employed as a chemical engineer at the Celanese Corporation of America.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the Clary Club. A tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the buffet supper table. Seventy-five guests attended.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York City, Mr. Martz and his bride will be at home to their friends at 535 Greene street, the latter part of the month.

Beulah Nelson Becomes Bride of William B. Martz

Ceremony Is Performed in SS. Peter and Paul Church Rectory

IS MARRIED

Miss Beulah Nelson, daughter of Mrs. William Nelson, Sr. Eckhart, became the bride of William B. Martz, son of Mrs. William B. Martz, 320 North Mechanic street, Monday evening.

The ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock in SS. Peter and Paul church rectory, with the Rev. Father Fabian, O. F. M. Cap. officiating and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Amato as the attendants.

The bride was attired in a beige wool suit, with which she wore black accessories. An orchid corsage completed her costume. Her matron of honor wore a light gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of Beall high school, Frostburg and Frostburg State Teachers college. She is employed on the staff of the Celanese Corporation of America. The bridegroom is a graduate of LaSalle high school and Villa Nova college, Philadelphia. He is employed as a chemical engineer at the Celanese Corporation of America.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the Clary Club. A tiered wedding cake, adorned with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the buffet supper table. Seventy-five guests attended.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York City, Mr. Martz and his bride will be at home to their friends at 535 Greene street, the latter part of the month.

Personals

Fred Small, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Small, Washington street, a home from Merceburg Academy, Merceburg, Pa., until January 3. The school closed early for the holidays because of the flu.

Miss Teresa McLaughlin, of Philadelphia, a former resident, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Gunning, 8 Decatur street.

Mrs. Fred T. Small Is Guild Chairman For Yule Gifts

Members of the Woman's Guild of Emmanuel Episcopal church decided at the meeting yesterday afternoon to fill twenty-five Camp and Hospital Council bags for the convalescing servicemen at Newton D. Baker hospital.

Mrs. Fred T. Small was appointed chairman of arrangements by Miss Elizabeth L. Lowndes. The contents of each bag will cost $1.50 and all wishing to contribute are asked to make their donations to Mrs. Small by December 14.

The guild also voted on the Christmas decorations of the church, which will be under the direction of Mrs. Chester Wolf and members of the Altar Ward. The dessert-card party and bazaar to be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock were also discussed. Preparations are being made for thirty tables. Prizes will be awarded for each table.

The bazaar booths are sponsored by Mrs. John Bestwick's and Mrs. John Carcaden's circles. Articles will include baby dresses, knitted articles and infants' wear; table mats, head bands, aprons of all kinds, hand made quilts, hooked rugs and children's toys besides all kinds of miscellaneous articles.

Mrs. Albert Keight is general chairman and the Christmas motif will be carried out in the decorations.

Miss Ruby Adams was guest speaker yesterday and discussing "The Importance of the Child," emphasized how easily a child is impressed and stressed the importance of a happy home and environment.

She also discussed how hard it is for the children of the war workers transient home and urged that it is up to the women to better conditions of the children.

Christmas decorations were carried out with pine and a miniature Santa and sleigh with pine cones and bells centered the table.

Members of St. Stephen's Circle served the lunch.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is constipation.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when it gets blocked it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkalizer—but something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits your food to move along normally. Nature's own digestive juices can then reach it. You get genuine relief that makes you feel really good again.

We Hope You'll Understand

Some of our key employees haven't had a vacation since the beginning of the war, because it has been impossible to get substitutes for them.

Now, we think you'll agree, they need a rest. So we're planning to give all of our employees a vacation this Christmas.

Our plant and office will be closed from Saturday, December 22nd until Wednesday, January 2nd.

We hope that this will not seriously inconvenience you, and we'll sincerely appreciate it if you will anticipate your holiday cleaning requirements well in advance.

Thank You

DON'T LET SOAP SHORTAGES GET WORSE You can help!

Keep saving used fats to help prevent further cuts in your soap supply

As long as our country's supply of industrial fats is so low, the government must determine how much fat can be released to make soap and other peacetime goods.

Any let-down in your saving of used kitchen fats will make our fat supply even less...and the amount allowed for soap manufacture may have to be cut accordingly. The end of rationing of food fats doesn't change the picture. Industrial fats are still very short. So keep turning in your used fats, won't you? ...and speed the return of more soaps to your dealer's shelves.

IT'S SUCH A GOOD HABIT... I'LL KEEP SAVING FATS AS LONG AS THE GOVERNMENT WANTS!

YMCA Residents Are Entertained

The present crop of young men now in residence at the Central YMCA is probably the most traveled group ever to live in the dormitory, it was revealed Monday night.

Of the twenty members who attended the dormitory Christmas party last night, nine were either in the European or Pacific Theaters or on the high seas a year ago today.

This information was revealed when the members, as a part of the program, gave an account of where they were a year ago.

Members had a turkey dinner with all the trimmings and paid their respects to R. E. McMillen, "dean" of the Y residents who moved in shortly after it was opened twenty years ago and has lived there ever since.

Arthur A. Hubler, dormitory chairman, extended greetings to the guests and Robert L. Sisson, general secretary, and O. I. Bergstrom, assistant secretary, spoke on the activities of the association.

The next meeting of the group will be held in January.

Dog Is Discharged From Coast Guard

"Sandy," the 150-pound Chesapeake Bay retriever owned by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Gray, McCooie, has received his honorable discharge from the United States Coast Guard after twenty-eight months of service.

One of the few war dogs from this district, Sandy was trained by the coast guard and his discharge papers credit him with serving at Front Royal, Va., Pensacola, Fla., and Curtis Bay, Md. As far as is known the dog did not see overseas service.

The discharged dog formerly belonged to Edgar "Sonny" Tucker, 134 Grand avenue, but the dog grew so rapidly that he was obliged to send him to the Gray farm where he would have room to expand.

Weese Forfeits Bond

George T. Weese, 176 Baltimore street, an employee of the Savoy pool room and bowling alleys, forfeited $25 bond Monday morning in police court on a charge of maintaining a gaming device. Officer W. E. Valentine arrested Weese Saturday night on a charge of selling tip boards.

WILL THERE BE A STEEL STRIKE?

Not if the CIO abides by its pledged word, given only last spring.

QUESTION: What would be the general effect on the country of a steel strike?

ANSWER: Over 40 per cent of all the factory workers in the country earn their living by making steel into useful products for American life. A shut-down of the steel industry would be a disastrous blow to reconversion and would cause a serious loss in both wages and industrial production at a time when they were most needed.

QUESTION: Is it true that the Steelworkers Union has pledged itself not to strike?

ANSWER: Yes. Every contract which the Union has signed this year with the various steel companies has a clause wherein the Union agrees not to strike during the life of the contract.

QUESTION: Are those contracts still in effect?

ANSWER: Yes. They were signed in the spring of 1945 to run until October, 1946.

QUESTION: Who signed for the Union?

ANSWER: Its international officials — Philip Murray, Van Bittner, Clinton Golden and others — and the local Union heads at the various plants.

QUESTION: Is there no "escape clause" by which either side could end the agreements?

ANSWER: No. The Union demanded a fixed, long-term contract and got it.

QUESTION: Why did they want a long-term contract?

ANSWER: In the Union's own words before the War Labor Board, "The Union's request for a termination date of October, 1946, is not made capriciously or pressed here for bargaining purposes. It represents the considered view of the Union that only such a term will adequately serve the needs of stability."

QUESTION: Did the recent strike vote violate the contracts?

ANSWER: No. Only an actual strike would violate them.

QUESTION: Haven't there been strikes already during the life of the contracts?

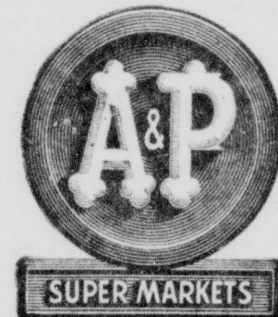

ANSWER: Yes. There were 998 strikes in steel plants during the past year alone. They were mostly local strikes which the Union characterizes as "wildcat," but they meant a big loss in production.

QUESTION: Does the end of the war justify changing the contracts?

ANSWER: No. The bond was sealed on both sides and should be kept whether times be good or bad. The steel companies are continuing to live up to these agreements. If a strike is called, it will be in clear violation of the existing contracts.

A strike in the face of existing contracts would shatter any confidence in the validity of union agreements in the steel industry.

Eston K. Feaster Accepts Position In Berkeley

Grant County Assistant Superintendent of Schools Submits Resignation

By MYRTLE PARK
PETERSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 11—Eston K. Feaster, recently discharged from the armed forces, has accepted the position as assistant county superintendent of schools in Berkeley county and began his new work December 3.

Feaster met with the Grant County Board of Education on the evening of November 27 and asked for a release from his work as assistant superintendent in Grant county. He pointed out to the board that he had always been most happy in his school work here and that he knew he would miss his many good friends, and stated that he was accepting the Berkeley county work because it was an advancement for him and that he felt he could not be fair to himself and his profession if he did not accept it. The board granted the release.

Feaster served the schools of Grant county for fourteen years. Two of these were spent in a one-room school, Brushy Run, and one as assistant county superintendent. He is a past president of the Petersburg Kiwanis Club here and past lieutenant governor of Kiwanis in this district.

A Neil Frye was appointed assistant superintendent to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Feaster.

Frye will go to West Virginia university the second semester of this year where he will begin work on his Master of Arts degree. It is understood that he will also take the first six weeks of the coming summer term of graduate work at the university and this will leave him only one additional summer in order to complete his Master of Arts degree.

He has for the past fourteen years been a class room teacher in Grant county, four years in a one-room school, nine years in Petersburg grade school and two years in Petersburg high school.

Marriage Is Announced
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simpson, Cabins, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elva Lee Simpson, to Kelly Goldizen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Goldizen, Jordan Run, which took place at Oakland, November 21. Mrs. Goldizen is a senior in Petersburg high school and will continue her studies there. She was formerly employed at Thompson's Market here. Mr. Goldizen is engaged in farming.

Brief Item
The Petersburg high school vocational shop will be open each Monday and Wednesday nights through December and January from 7 to 10 for farmers to repair their machinery.

William Kroll Returns Home

By MRS. RAYMOND ROBERTSON
GILMORE, Dec. 11—Capt. William K. Kroll, who entered the army March 31, 1943, returned home after twenty-five months' service overseas.

He trained at Camp Lee, Va., and was transferred to the ordnance depot at Atlanta, Ga., where he studied automobile mechanics. He left the country in October 20, 1943.

He was stationed in England until two weeks after D-day when he was sent to France with the Third armored division of the First army, spearheading the army from Normandy through to the Elbe river.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kroll, he holds the meritorious unit citation and five battle stars. He was formerly employed at the Llewellyn dairy.

Gilmore Briefs
Myrtle Temple No. 2, Pythian Sisters, Midland, will meet for a Christmas party December 20. An exchange of presents and covered-dish supper will be held after the meeting.

The Midland Homemakers will hold their Christmas party at 7:30 p. m. December 13 at the Redmen's hall. They will exchange presents.

Service Notes
Seaman 1-c Raymond Robertson returned to Boston after spending a thirty-two-day leave with his wife and children.

The following men have been released from naval duty: Matthew Martin, husband of Mrs. Ruth Martin; Robert and Webster Fazenbaker, sons of Mrs. James Fazenbaker; and Marshall Beeman, son of Mrs. Jane Beeman.

Those discharged from the army are Robert Robertson, husband of

Frostburg Legion Auxiliary Packs 300 Boxes for Wounded Americans

Are Shipped to War Memorial Building in Baltimore for Distribution

By RUDOLPH NICKEL
FROSTBURG, Dec. 11—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Frostburg Legion Post packed 300 boxes at a cost of $3 each and collected fifty additional boxes from groups and individuals in the "Gifts for the Yanks" campaign. Two hundred boxes were shipped Saturday and the others were sent today to the War Memorial building, Baltimore, for distribution to ill and wounded veterans in hospitals in Maryland, West Virginia and District of Columbia.

The campaign was sponsored by the Department of Maryland and Frostburg was given a quota of 300 Christmas boxes. A substantial donation was made by Farrady Post and the rest of the money as secured by soliciting the general public. Each person who donated $3, the cost of a Christmas box, was given the privilege of placing an individual Christmas card in the box.

After the money was secured and the gifts purchased large groups of Legion auxiliary women spent many evenings packing the boxes and wrapping them in Christmas wrapping paper tied with red ribbons. The group shown above was at work Saturday evening when the photograph was taken.

Mrs. Cole is president and Mrs. Goldworthy, secretary of the Ladies Auxiliary of Farrady Post, American Legion and Mrs. Eberly is chairman of the "Gifts for the Yanks" Christmas drive. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Laber are members of the Auxiliary.

Carol Program Planned
Final rehearsals are being held for the annual Christmas carol service at Frostburg State Teachers' college, scheduled for Friday at 8 p. m.

The program of Christmas music will be presented by the Maryland Singers under the direction of Prof. Maurice Matteson.

Raley Rites Set
A funeral mass for Mrs. Barbara M. Raley, 56, of Frostburg, who died this morning in Miners hospital, will be held Friday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Michael's Catholic church. Interment will be in Beal cemetery, Pocomoke, Pa.

Mrs. Raley, a member of St. Michael's Catholic church, is survived by four sons, George Raley, Meyersdale, Pa.; Pfc. John Raley, with the army in Japan; Pfc. Albert Raley, with the army in Germany; and Pfc. Gordon Raley, Camp Pickett, Va.

Five daughters, Mrs. Verna McKenzie, Mrs. Dorothy Arnold and Mrs. Evelyn McKenzie, all of Frostburg; Mrs. Virginia Lint, Boynton, Pa.; and Miss June Raley, at home; seven stepchildren, Mrs. Charles Day, Mrs. Mary Minnick, and Edward, Thomas and Raymond Raley, all of Frostburg; Patrick Raley, Johnson City, N. Y.; and Mrs. Ruth Pate, Boynton.

Five brothers, Alban and Patrick McKenzie, Frostburg; Jesse and Noah McKenzie, Meyersdale; and Sebastian McKenzie, Avilton; and two sisters, Miss Myrtle McKenzie, Meyersdale, and Mrs. Emma Murray, Avilton.

The body is at the Durst funeral home.

Storm Addresses Rotarians
CSarl Storm gave a talk on "Fingerprints" last night at the weekly meeting of the Frostburg Rotary club. He explained the Henry system of classification of impressions to make positive identification of any set of fingerprints, and the value of fingerprint records to the individual as well as to legal authorities.

Ivan Diehl will be in charge of next week's program. The following week the club will meet Thursday, December 27, at the usual time instead of Monday, December 24.

GEORGE MILLER DIES
George Miller, 56, a native of Zihlman, died Sunday at 4 p. m. in a hospital in Washington, D. C., after suffering a heart attack Saturday while at work in the baggage department at Union station, Washington, according to word received by relatives here.

Mr. Miller was a son of Mrs. Ella Stephens Miller, who is residing with her daughter, Mrs. Roy Deffenbaugh, Mt. Savage, and the late George Miller.

A resident of Brunswick, he had been employed by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for nearly thirty years as a fireman and engineer on the Cumberland-Brunswick division.

Mr. Miller moved to Washington a year ago and worked in Union station until his death.

He was a member of Frostburg council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, and of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Besides his mother and sister, Mrs. Miller is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lily Kelly Miller, Washington; two daughters by a former marriage, Mrs. Virginia Feaga, Cumberland, and Mrs. Evelyn Winfield, Zihlman; another sister, Mrs. Grace Mont, and a brother, Daniel Miller, both of Frostburg, and two grandchildren.

The body will arrive in Cumberland from Washington at noon tomorrow and will be taken to the home of Mrs. Winfield in Zihlman. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in the Zihlman Methodist church. Interment will be in Allegheny cemetery.

Nurse Is En Route Home
Lt. Frances M. Bissett, army nurse corps, is leaving India to return to this country, according to a cablegram received by her mother, Mrs. Keyran Bissett, 19 Broadway.

A graduate of the Allegheny hospital school of nursing, Cumberland, Lt. Bissett has been in service fourteen months. While overseas she was attached to the Twentieth general hospital on the Ledo road.

Zarger Rites Set
Funeral services for Benjamin L. Zarger, 52, 83 West Loo street, who died this morning in Miners hospital, where he had been a patient for two months, will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the Durst funeral home.

The Rev. J. F. Zimmerman, pastor of First Congregational church, will officiate. Interment will be in Allegheny cemetery.

Services Planned For Algie Clise

By MARIE MERRBACH
LONAONING, Dec. 10—Funeral services for Pfc. Algie G. Clise, 24, will be held Wednesday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Algie G. Clise, Sr., 75 Douglas avenue.

The Rev. William B. Orndorff, pastor of the Baptist church, Westernport, will officiate. Members of James P. Love Post No. 92, American Legion, will have charge of the services. Interment will be in Philos cemetery, Westernport.

Plan Musical
The Lonaoning City band will play Christmas music Saturday at 7 p. m. and on Christmas morning.

There will be specialty numbers including an ensemble by Melvin Merbach, William Barnard, Lee Smith, Arch Stewart and Howard Andrews.

Program Given
Students of 7-B presented the assembly program at the Central junior high school assembly Tuesday at 9 a. m. in the auditorium of the school.

Dorothy Ann Marshall played a piano selection. A play, "Citizenship," was presented.

Personals
First Lt. and Mrs. Conrad Hohing have gone to Nutwell to visit Mrs. Hohing's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gibson, for ten days. Lt. Hohing is on terminal leave and expects to receive his discharge the end of December.

WT 3-c Daniel N. Fitzpatrick received his discharge from the navy December 8, at Bainbridge. He is now home with his wife, Mrs. Louise W. Fitzpatrick, daughter, Betty, and Tommy, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Picciani, High street. Mrs. Picciani received a letter recently from her other son, Frank, who is in the cavalry stationed in South America.

Eston K. Feaster Accepts Position In Berkeley

By MYRTLE PARK
PETERSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 11—Eston K. Feaster, recently discharged from the armed forces, has accepted the position as assistant county superintendent of schools in Berkeley county and began his new work December 3.

Feaster met with the Grant County Board of Education on the evening of November 27 and asked for a release from his work as assistant superintendent in Grant county. He pointed out to the board that he had always been most happy in his school work here and that he knew he would miss his many good friends, and stated that he was accepting the Berkeley county work because it was an advancement for him and that he felt he could not be fair to himself and his profession if he did not accept it. The board granted the release.

Feaster served the schools of Grant county for fourteen years. Two of these were spent in a one-room school, Brushy Run, and one as assistant county superintendent. He is a past president of the Petersburg Kiwanis Club here and past lieutenant governor of Kiwanis in this district.

A. Neil Frye was appointed assistant superintendent to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Feaster.

Frye will go to West Virginia university the second semester of this year where he will begin work on his Master of Arts degree. It is understood that he will also take the first six weeks of the coming summer term of graduate work at the university and this will leave him only one additional summer in order to complete his Master of Arts degree.

He has for the past fourteen years been a class room teacher in Grant county; four years in a one-room school, nine years in Petersburg grade school and two years in Petersburg high school.

Marriage Is Announced
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simpson, Cabins, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elva Lee Simpson, to Kelly Goldizen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Goldizen, Jordan Run, which took place at Oakland, November 21. Mrs. Goldizen is a senior in Petersburg high school and will continue her studies there. She was formerly employed at Thompson's Market here. Mr. Goldizen is engaged in farming.

Brief Item
The Petersburg high school boys' shop will be open each Monday and Wednesday nights through December and January from 7 to 10 for farmers to repair their machinery.

William Kroll Returns Home

By MRS. RAYMOND ROBERTSON
GILMORE, Dec. 11—Cpl. William G. Kroll, who entered the army March 31, 1943, returned home after twenty-five months' service overseas.

He trained at Camp Lee, Va., and was transferred to the ordnance depot at Atlanta, Ga., where he studied automobile mechanics. He left the country in October 20, 1943. He was stationed in England until two weeks after D-day when he was sent to France with the Third armored division of the First army, spearheading the army from Normandy through to the Elbe river.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kroll, he holds the meritorious unit citation and five battle stars. He was formerly employed at the Llewellyn dairy.

Gilmore Briefs

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Dec. 11—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Frostburg Legion Post packed 300 boxes at a cost of $3 each and collected fifty additional boxes from groups and individuals in the "Gifts for the Yanks" campaign. Two hundred boxes were shipped Saturday and the others were sent today to the War Memorial building, Baltimore, for distribution to ill and wounded veterans in hospitals in Maryland, West Virginia and District of Columbia.

The campaign was sponsored by the Department of Maryland and Frostburg was given a quota of 300 Christmas boxes. A substantial donation was made by Farrady Post and the rest of the money was secured by soliciting the general public. Each person who donated $3, the cost of a Christmas box, was given the privilege of placing an individual Christmas card in the box.

After the money was secured and the gifts purchased large groups of Legion auxiliary women spent many evenings packing the boxes and wrapping them in Christmas wrapping paper tied with red ribbons. The group shown above was at work Saturday evening when the photograph was taken.

Mrs. Cole is president and Mrs. Goldworthy, secretary of the Ladies Auxiliary of Farrady Post, American Legion and Mrs. Eberly is chairman of the "Gifts for the Yanks" Christmas drive. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Laber are members of the Auxiliary.

Carol Program Planned
Final rehearsals are being held for the annual Christmas carol service at Frostburg State Teachers' college, scheduled for Friday at 8 p. m.

The program of Christmas music will be presented by the Maryland Singers under the direction of Prof. Maurice Matteson.

Flames Damage Keyser Building

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., Dec. 11—A one-story building on Mowile street, where Earl Moran stored tools and materials for his contracting business, was partially destroyed by fire of undetermined origin early Sunday morning.

The fire was discovered at 5:15 a. m. The damage to the building and contents was estimated at $800. There was no insurance.

In discussing the unusual number of fires in Keyser, recently, E. Wade Thomas, chief of the Keyser voluntary fire company, said that eight fires occurred in November and estimated the loss at $1,500.

Chief Thomas urged property

LISTEN WORLD!

—By Elsie Robinson
(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

"To be in hell is to drift: to be in heaven is to steer," said Bernard Shaw.

You've proved that, haven't you? The hours, the days, the tragic years you've wasted, not knowing what you wanted to do... drifting this way and that. Of course you should have known. You hated yourself for not knowing.

Felt you were a fool, a hypocrite, a coward. Yet, sick as you were of indecision, decision wouldn't come. Round and round you went in the slow stagnant current of uncertainty.

How you hated times like those! If hell holds any worse torment, you don't want to know it.

And then, in contrast, those few proud times when you did decide what to do and did it! Of course, the doing wasn't always easy. Sometimes it meant cruel sacrifice—bitter loneliness and real risk. But no matter how closely your decision, it never wasted and shamed you as indecision did.

And though sometimes those acts of decision left you poorer in pocket and weary in flesh, they made you richer in spirit. You felt a bigger man or woman after them.

If only you could be like that always! If you could be one of those strong, calm spirits to whom decision comes naturally.

Don't fool yourself! Decision never comes naturally to any one! No one is born calm or certain. Everyone is born aimless and frightened and confused. We must all learn to make up our minds—and we learn how to make up our minds by making them up.

Our minds, in the beginning, are as indefinite as our muscles. Uncertain films. With each motion—and in healthy life the motion is constant—the muscle hardens, thickens, becomes a more reliable tool. Exactly the same rule applies.

to the mind. With each thought—and in healthy life, thought is as constant as motion—the mind hardens, deepens, becomes a more reliable tool.

The muscle was not the result of one motion. It was the result of continual motion. Some of the motions were successes—some were failures—but they all contributed to the growth of the muscle.

The child did not wait to know whether it was right before it went ahead. It simply grabbed. And unsuccessful grabs were as important as the successful grabs... they all contributed to growth.

That's the way muscles are made. That's the way minds should be made. Learn how to make you mind up by making it up. Do not say—"Well, I don't need to make up my mind now—I'll wait until something really important happens." If you wait you'll have no mind to make up when the crisis arrives. Make up your mind now.

Take some definite stand on each subject, each experience that presents itself, however small. Decide! Maybe you'll decide wrong. Maybe you'll wish you hadn't. But decide, nevertheless. For that is the only way to acquire the power of decision. And no matter how costly your blunder, it is better than spending your life in the hell of indecision.

Kaylor, Johnson And Buckingham Go Deer Hunting

Three members of the forestry department combined business and pleasure last week when they went deer hunting in the vicinity of Harrington Manor.

State Forester Joseph F. Kaylor, Assistant State Forester H. C. Buckingham and District Forester William H. Johnson didn't get a deer but they came close.

The three foresters and other members of their party put up at one of the caretakers' cabins at the Manor. One morning, Forester Johnson spied two wild geese on the lake and discarding his rifle, took his shotgun. While intent on watching the geese he heard a commotion behind him and turned around just in time to see a handsome buck taking off into the woods. One member of the group wounded a buck which Johnson trailed for four hours, finally discovering the hide and antlers by a stream. Another hunter he encountered in that vicinity reported that two other hunters saw the buck coming down the stream, pulled it in and butchered it. Then they left.

Members of the party reported that they encountered evidence of four illegal kills last week. They also reported that evidence was found indicating that at least one hunter had passed through one of the game refuges in the county.

The foresters spent part of their time hunting and the rest looking after the various refuges in the district.

The weather was generally cold and wet last week in Garrett county.

Cook Is Voted City's Most Valuable Player

Mattingly, White, Cook Are Presented Watches

Squads Name "Valuable" Players; Navy Coach Urges Expansion of Boys' Contact Sports

COACH IS SPEAKER

Lindbergh Cook, brilliant guard of Allegheny high school's Cumberland Valley Athletic League and city championship football team, was voted the "most valuable player" of the year in Cumberland by the Times-News papers' first annual football dinner for city scholastic grid squads last night in the Cumberland Country Club.

The balloting was conducted among members of the Allegheny, Port Hill and LaSalle squads after each team had named its "most valuable player" of the season, and those nominated were presented gold watches by the Times-News papers.

Players Elect Trio
Cook, Richard "Dick" White, Port Hill's classy fullback, and Robert Mattingly, LaSalle's small but mighty fullback were the choices as the "most valuable players" on their respective squads. The winners were announced by Gene Gunning, city editor of The Evening Times.

The players present then balloted on the "most valuable player" in the city. They were asked to make first and second choices to eliminate any changes in a triple tie in event the twenty-two players of each squad voted for only one player on their team. Two points were given for first choice and one for second. After the ballots were counted by Coaches Mel Henry, John J. Long and Walter L. Bowers, the announcement by John J. McMillen, president of the Times-News papers that Cook was the winner drew a rousing round of applause from those present.

Piedmont Cagers Outclass Beall Floormen 26-6

PROSBURG, Dec. 11.—Piedmont high school's classy basketball team limited Beall high school to two field goals tonight and easily defeated the locals in their opening game of the season by the score of 26 to 6.

Coach Jeff Baker's quintet registered twelve field goals and led by the score of 12 to 4 at the halftime whistle.

Four hundred and fifty persons witnessed the contest.

Twice played an outstanding game for the West Virginia team and teamed with Sayers to pace the Piedmont attack, each having scored three field goals.

In the preliminary game, Beall high school's junior varsity basketball team defeated the Cresaptown Alumni by the score of 22 to 18.

The lineups:

Piedmont: G. F. P. S. Blackburn, 1 0-0 1; Higgins, 1 0-0 1; Thomas, 1 0-0 1; Sayers, 2 0-0 2; Tolson, 2 0-0 2; Wolford, 2 0-0 2.

Fire at North Beach, Md., Damages Four Buildings

NORTH BEACH, Md., Dec. 11 (AP)—Fire damaged four business houses here this afternoon before being brought under control by firemen and equipment from ten communities.

The blaze, which was believed to have started from an overheated stove, burned stores and a lumber yard along Chesapeake avenue between Second and Third streets in the heart of the town. The fire started about 5:15 p. m. and was brought under control about two and one half hours later.

There were no reports of casualties. An estimate of the damage was not available immediately.

Cold Wave Causes At Least Five Deaths

(By The Associated Press)

A late autumn cold wave that drove temperatures down to 31 degrees below zero in Minnesota and North Dakota, retained its icy grip on most of the country last (Tuesday) night, causing at least five deaths.

The mass of cold air covered a wide belt east from the Rocky mountains and no immediate relief was in sight. Sleet fell in New Orleans, Southern Texas got its first taste of snow this season and Miami, Fla., recorded a chilly 59 degree temperature reading at noon.

Dwellings for Veterans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Senate today passed legislation authorizing appropriation of $180,000,000 to move abandoned war housing facilities to shortage areas as dwellings for veterans.

An additional $35,000,000 in the pending deficiency appropriation bill would be used for the same purpose.

Bodies To Be Cremated

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 11 (AP)—The bodies of the fourteen persons killed last week in the crash of a United States Army C-47 transport en route to Montevideo will be cremated at the scene of the accident in Corrientes province, Argentina, it was announced tonight.

Phil Terranova Wins

BOSTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Phil Terranova, 128½, New York, performed unimpressively tonight while gaining a unanimous ten-round decision over Ellis Phillips, 131½, Philadelphia negro slugger, in the Godwin A. C.'s feature bout before a skimpy crowd of 1,971 at the Boston Garden.

Big Leagues Refuse Plea of Coast Loop To Join the Majors

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—The major leagues today turned down the plea of the Pacific Coast League to become the third major league in baseball.

The major leagues, in a surprise announcement after a day long meeting, said, however, that they recognized the Pacific Coast league as "potential major league territory," and offered the coast loop the services, desired of a cooperating committee.

Former New York Mayor Wins Neil Memorial Plaque

James J. Walker Is Named by Boxing Writers for Annual Award

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—James J. Walker, former mayor, was selected by New York's writers today as the 1945 winner of the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque, given annually to the person regarded as having done the most for boxing during the year.

Named in honor of the Associated Press writer and foreign correspondent killed in the Spanish civil war eight years ago, the award will be formally presented at the annual banquet of the boxing writers on January 23.

Six names were placed in nomination at a luncheon meeting of the writers today. Walker gained twelve of the twenty-four votes cast. His selection then was made unanimous.

Walker long has been identified with boxing. He introduced the bill that legalized the sport in New York State more than twenty years ago. Many other states later adopted bills similar to the Walker one. He seldom misses a fight at Madison Square Garden and is personally acquainted with all the champions and former champions of the last thirty years.

He is the eighth winner of the award that previously was given to Jack Dempsey, Billy Conn, Henry Armstrong, Joe Louis, Barney Ross, all the boxers in service, and Benny Leonard last year. Five years ago Walker received a medal for long and meritorious service to the sport.

He has become the first person to have won both the medal and the Neil award.

DeGroot Respects Bob Waterfield

'Skins Coach Concerned over Cleveland Ace's Running Ability

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Washington Redskins are confident that Slinging Sammy Baugh will outpace Cleveland's Bob Waterfield next Sunday in professional football's championship game at Cleveland.

In fact, they apparently are more concerned over Waterfield's running ability than his passing.

As pre-game discussions swung around today to a comparison of these rival backfield stars, Head Coach Dudley DeGroot of the Redskins had this to say:

"Waterfield is a fine all-around player and more like Baugh as a passer than anyone else I've seen but he's still pretty new to pro ball.

"And he's a long thrower while Sammy shoots his shots short."

Earl Aude, Redskins lineman from Southern California university where he played against Waterfield, then of UCLA, felt it was "unfair" to Waterfield even to compare him with Baugh as a passer.

"After all, Bob's just getting started in this big-league business," Aude commented. "He's an excellent thrower of his type but he lacks Baugh's split-second judgment and finesse."

DeGroot has plenty of respect for Waterfield as a runner. "He's about as quick as they come as a break-away runner," he said. "He's made five touchdown runs and you don't do that standing around."

Cumberland Outdoor Club Plans Turkey Shoot on Sunday

The Cumberland Outdoor Club will hold a turkey shoot Sunday at 10 a. m. at O'Neal's on the Bedford road.

One turkey will go to each squad of five shooters. There will be a two-yard handicap for each winner, beginning at the sixteen-yard line.

There will be novelty events for both shooters and non-shooters. Shells will be available on the grounds. The shoot is open to the public.

Commencing on Sunday, December 23, practice shoots will be held on Sundays from 12:30 to 4 p. m. Charles Simpson is chairman of the committee.

Fi. Meade Needs Twists

FORT GEORGE G. MEADE, Md., Dec. 11 (AP)—James W. Salyers, director of civilian personnel at Fort Meade, reported today that 600 typists would be hired on the spot if they could be found and that 200 laborers were needed immediately to replace military personnel.

Paw Paw Quint Defeats Capon Bridge, 40-14

Taylor and Robertson Make Thirty-two Points for Victors

PAW PAW, W. Va., Dec. 11.—Capon Plummer Pride's Paw Paw high school quintet, launched its home campaign tonight with a 40 to 14 victory over Capon Bridge.

Robertson and Taylor accounted for fifteen of the winners' field goals, the former getting eight while the latter chalked up seven two-pointers.

Paw Paw led throughout, the quarter scores being 7-1, 13-8 and 24-11.

Coach Pride's quintet will play Port Hill high school in Cumberland on Friday. The lineups:

Paw Paw: G. F. P. S. Taylor, 1 0-0 1; Robertson, 1 0-0 1; Zorich, 1 0-0 1; Herman, 1 0-0 1.

Capon Bridge: G. F. P. S. Peck, 1 0-0 1; Thomas, 1 0-0 1; Latrask, 1 0-0 1; Poland, 1 0-0 1; Ried, sub, 1 0-0 1; Franks, sub, 1 0-0 1.

Non-scoring subs: Paw Paw—Carron, Strickland, Cadigan, Kline, Capon Bridge—Birchard. Referee—Clifton Van Roby.

Crime Detection Experts Hurry Tests in Effort To Trap Brutal Slayer

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—Chicago's scientific crime detection experts hurried tests today in an effort to trap a brutal slayer of a discharged WAVE—a killer who warned that "he—or she—would 'kill more' unless captured soon."

Police said an examination of the apartment of Miss Frances Brown, 33, whose nude, shot and stabbed body was found in her bathtub yesterday, had revealed no fingerprints—not even those of the victim.

However, sections of the blood-stained woodwork were taken from the apartment to the police crime laboratory where experts attempted to develop legible fingerprints from smudges.

Probe of Hurley Case Is Virtually Ended

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee virtually ended its investigation of the Patrick J. Hurley case today.

Theoretically, the inquiry into charges by the fiery Oklahoman, former ambassador to China, still remains open. No vote was taken in the closed committee session.

Practically, members let it be known there won't be any more hearings and there is little or no chance of action on a resolution by Sen. Wherry (R-Neb) for a full investigation of the State department.

Cook Is Voted City's Most Valuable Player

Mattingly, White, Cook Are Presented Watches

COACH IS SPEAKER

EDGAR "RIP" MILLER, Navy line coach, is shown above addressing the Times-News football dinner last night at the Cumberland Country Club. He urged all boys to take part in some kind of game, citing that there are too many people in the stands and not enough playing. One hundred guests attended the affair at which watches were presented to the "most valuable player" of the three city high schools.

Lindbergh Cook, brilliant guard of Allegheny high school's Cumberland Valley Athletic League and city championship football team, was voted the most valuable player of the year in Cumberland at the Times-News papers' first annual football dinner for city scholastic grid squads last night in the Cumberland Country Club.

The balloting was conducted among members of the Allegheny, Fort Hill and LaSalle squads after each team had named its "most valuable player" of the season, and those nominated were presented gold watches by the Times-News papers.

Players Elect Trio
Cook, Richard "Dick" White, Port Hill's classy fullback, and Robert Mattingly, LaSalle's small but mighty fullback were the choices of the "most valuable players" in the event the twenty-two players of each squad voted for only one player on their team. Two points were given for first choice and one for second. After the ballots were counted by Coaches Mel Henry, John J. Long and Walter L. Bowers, the announcement by John J. McMillen, president of the Times-News papers that Cook was the winner drew a rousing round of applause from those present. Mr. McMillen conceived the idea of the annual award dinners and was introduced by C. William Bibby, who acted as toastmaster for the affair.

In his remarks Mr. McMillen stated that a new award will be established next year if the idea meets with the approval of the school principals. He stated that a local citizen has guaranteed a fund for a permanent "most valuable player" award and if it is deemed advisable it will be inaugurated in 1946. He expressed the hope that good relations continue to exist between Cumberland high schools indefinitely.

Edgar "Rip" Miller, former Notre Dame star, and present line coach at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, was the guest speaker. He was introduced by Toastmaster Bibby as one of the "most outstanding men he has ever met" as well as a player who started with the late Knute Rockne's wonder team which comprised the "seven mules" and the "four horses." Bibby stated that Miller has held the coaching job for twenty years at Annapolis.

"Rip" Miller Is Speaker
In his opening remarks, Miller laughingly remarked that he got the flu during the Army-Navy game when caught in the draft as Glenn Davis Army ace, passed the midline bench. He added, however, he was ready to fight the battle of the indignation circuit.

"The 1924 team at Notre Dame was good," Miller related, "but the 1945 Army team was some team, especially with Davis, inside to the outside, Blanchard inside and then one or the other through the middle." Blanchard, he said, was the "most valuable" to his team.

Miller pointed out that over the years football has been challenged on many occasions but the "long-haired boys" will never catch up with the sport. He stated that one

Piedmont Cagers Outclass Beall Floormen 26-6

PROSBURG, Dec. 11—Piedmont high school's classy basketball team limited Beall high school to two field goals tonight and easily defeated the locals in their opening game of the season by the score of 26 to 6.

Coach Jeff Baker's quintet registered twelve field goals and led by the score of 12 to 4 at the halftime whistle.

Four hundred and fifty persons witnessed the contest. Tucker played an outstanding game for the West Virginia team and teamed with Sayers to pace the Piedmont attack, each having scored three field goals.

In the preliminary game, Beall high school's junior varsity basketball team defeated the Cresapton Alumni by the score of 22 to 18.

half of the draftees were physically unfit to fight a war and lauded the V-J physical fitness program which Tom Hamilton launched and helped to put in shape thousands of fliers at four pre-flight schools.

The kids had to be put in shape quickly to fight a war as that's where the war was won—in the air," Miller declared.

Advocates Contact Sports
The speaker advocated more contact sports, citing that there are too many people in the stands and not enough playing games. He urged that all boys take part in some kind of game, and asserted that the game of football is basically democratic.

"This country is well grounded in teamwork but Hitler and Tojo couldn't understand how we turned out volumes of material to win the war," he said. "This was done by teamwork."

Miller congratulated Allegheny's football champions and in his parting remarks said, "There is no second place in anything."

Others introduced at the dinner were Coaches Walter L. Bowers, John J. Long, Mel Henry, Ralph R. Webster, principal of Allegheny, Brother Clement, principal of LaSalle, and Victor D. Henry, principal of Port Hill. Arthur G. Ramey, of the board of education, and Ross Prysock and C. V. Burns, sports editors of the Times and News.

One hundred persons attended the dinner.

Lee Oma Knocks Out Prentiss Hall in Fifth
BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 11—(AP)—Lee Oma, ranking heavyweight from Detroit, walked lackadaisically around the ring for four rounds then sprang into action to knock out Prentiss Hall, young Buffalo lightweight, in the fifth round of the feature bout of a Fairview Athletic club fight card tonight before 3,678 fans in Memorial auditorium.

Oma, weighing 192 to Hall's 172, dropped his hands to his sides, in almost contemptuous fashion, several times during the scheduled eight-round fight.

Big Leagues Refuse Plea of Coast Loop To Join the Majors

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—The major leagues today turned down the plea of the Pacific Coast League to become the third major league in baseball.

The major leagues, in a surprise announcement after a day long meeting, said, however, that they recognized the Pacific Coast league as "potential major league territory," and offered the coast loop the services, "if desired," of a cooperating committee.

Former New York Mayor Wins Neil Memorial Plaque

By TED MEIER
NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—James J. Walker, former mayor, was selected by New York's writers today as the 1945 winner of the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque, given annually to the person regarded as having done the most for boxing during the year.

Named in honor of the Associated Press sports writer and foreign correspondent killed in the Spanish civil war eight years ago, the award will be formally presented at the annual banquet of the boxing writers on January 23.

Six names were placed in nomination at a luncheon meeting of the writers today. Walker gained twelve of the twenty-four votes cast. His selection then was made unanimous.

Walker long has been identified with boxing. He introduced the bill that legalized the sport in New York State more than twenty years ago. Many other states later adopted bills similar to the Walker one.

He seldom misses a fight at Madison Square Garden, and is personally acquainted with all the champions and former champions of the last thirty years.

He is the eighth winner of the award that previously was given to Jack Dempsey, Billy Conn, Henry Armstrong, Joe Louis, Barney Ross, all the boxers in service, and Benny Leonard last year. Five years ago Walker received a medal for long and meritorious service to the sport. He thus becomes the first person to have won both the medal and the Neil award.

DeGroot Respects Bob Waterfield

'Skins Coach Concerned over Cleveland Ace's Running Ability

By BUS HAM
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Washington Redskins are confident that Slinging Sammy Baugh will outpace Cleveland's Bob Waterfield next Sunday in professional football's championship show at Cleveland.

In fact, they apparently are more concerned over Waterfield's running ability than his passing.

As pre-game discussions swung around today to a comparison of these rival backfield stars, Head Coach Dudley DeGroot of the Redskins had this to say:

"Waterfield is a fine all-around player and more like Baugh as a passer than anyone else I've seen but he's still pretty new to pro ball.

Paw Paw Quint Defeats Capon Bridge, 40-14

Taylor and Robertson Make Thirty-two Points for Victors

PAW PAW, W. Va., Dec. 11.—Coach Plummer Pride's Paw Paw high school quintet launched its home campaign tonight with a 40 to 14 victory over Capon Bridge.

Robertson and Taylor accounted for fifteen of the winners' field goals, the former getting eight while the latter chalked up seven two-points.

Paw Paw led throughout, the quarter scores being 7-1, 13-8 and 24-11.

Coach Pride's quintet will play Fort Hill high school in Cumberland on Friday. The lineups:

Crime Detection Experts Hurry Tests in Effort To Trap Brutal Slayer

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—Chicago's scientific crime detection experts hurried tests today in an effort to trap a brutal slayer of a discharged WAVE—a killer who warned that he or she would "kill more" unless captured soon.

Police said an examination of the apartment of Miss Frances Brown, 33, whose nude, shot and stabbed body was found in her bathtub yesterday, had revealed no fingerprints—not even those of the victim.

However, sections of the blood-stained woodwork were taken from the apartment to the police crime laboratory where experts attempted to develop legible fingerprints from smudges.

Probe of Hurley Case Is Virtually Ended

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee virtually ended its investigation of the Patrick J. Hurley case today.

Theoretically, the inquiry into charges by the fiery Oklahoma, former ambassador to China, still remains open. No vote was taken in the closed committee session.

Practically, members let it be known, there won't be any more hearings and there is little or no chance of action on a resolution by Sen. Wherry (R-Neb) for a full investigation of the State department.

Esposito, Rossworm and Jackson Win Silver Belt Boxing Titles

Shamrocks Annex Team Trophy; Keiser Voted Best Prospect

Lively bouts highlighted the windup of the two-day Silver Belt boxing tournament last night at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium when one novice and two open champions won laurels before an enthused throng that surpassed the opening night's turnout.

The card, held to five bouts, because of a shortage of fighters featured a slam-bang affair between Footbiller John Esposito and Gene Likens in which the former was awarded an unpopular decision and the 147-pound novice crown.

Esposito took the opening round and was held on even terms in the second but the third found him retreating from the stocky Likens' left hooks, which enabled him to take the last heat easily. Referee "Eck" Miers cast his ballot for Likens but Judges Harry Nelson and Howard "Red" Bush voted for Esposito.

Rossworm Stops Taylor
Earl Taylor, Negro, representing Fulton Myers Post, American Legion, pummeled Dick Rossworm, his ranky opponent, all around the ring in the first round of their 112-pound novice title fight, but ran out of gas in the second and lost by a technical knockout with six seconds to go. Taylor was down twice before the fight was halted.

Orville Jackson, of Probstburg, took a decision over John Hall of Fulton Myers Post, American Legion, in the dull finale of the 175-pound open class. Hall seemed to have an edge in the first two rounds because of his aggressiveness but Jackson held a slight edge in the last round.

Claude Kimmell and Joe Niland were returned winners in two extra bouts on the program. In a battle between welterweights, Kimmell out-punched Southpaw Bobby Porter, winning every round, although the latter connected solidly several open champion was nosed out for the honors. Each judge named three choices and the votes were five, three and one points for first, second and third places. Keiser was presented a trophy.

Shamrocks Win Trophy
The Shamrock Athletic Club, headed by Leo "Bud" Law, veteran of the Second World war, and Joe Niland, was awarded the team trophy while Fulton Myers Post, American Legion, captured runner-up honors.

Trophies and awards were given the following other individual title-holders:

112-pound novice—Dick Rossworm, Earl Taylor, runnerup.
118-pound novice—Melvin Washington.
126-pound novice—Bob Kerns.
135-pound novice—Dick Welsh, George Heimstetter, runnerup.

147-pound novice—John Esposito, Gene Likens, runnerup.
175-pound novice—Frank Metz, Donnie Keiser, runnerup.
135-pound Open—Mike Leslie, Bob Porter, runnerup.
160-pound Open—Garford Albright, Joe Hollingsworth, runnerup.

175-pound Open—Orville Jackson, John Hall, runnerup.

Officials were Referees Jack Rorick and Eck Miers; Judges Howard "Red" Bush and Harry Nelson; timekeepers Bucky Walbert and Bobby Cavanaugh and Announcer Billy Paul.

The public address system was donated by the Armbruster Radio Service.

Keiser Awarded Trophy
Donnie Keiser, middleweight, son of Fay W. Keiser, retired 160-pound professional boxer, was voted the "best prospect" in the show by a committee of five officials. Keiser ran into a knockout punch in his match with Frank Metz Monday night but up to that time he boxed beautifully and showed plenty of class. Mike Leslie, the 135-pound

Elk Garden Five Conquers Bruce

Murphy Paces Offensive in 25-15 Triumph at Westernport

WESTERNPORT, Dec. 11.—Elk Garden high school took the measure of Bruce high school's basketball team here tonight by the score of 25 to 15.

Murphy was the "big gun" for the visitors with five field goals and one free throw—a total of eleven points, while Bruce paced the Bruce scorers with nine points—four field goals and a foul.

Elk Garden got away to a 6-5 lead at the quarter and remained in front the rest of the way. The halftime and third period scores were 13-9 and 18-11.

Bruce will play host to Piedmont high school on Wednesday, December 19. The lineups:

Fire at North Beach, Md., Damages Four Buildings

NORTH BEACH, Md., Dec. 11 (AP)—Fire damaged four business houses here this afternoon before being brought under control by firemen and equipment from ten communities.

The blaze, which was believed to have started from an overheated stove, burned stores and a lumber yard along Chesapeake avenue between Second and Third streets in the heart of the town. The fire started about 5:15 p. m. and was brought under control about two and one half hours later.

There were no reports of casualties. An estimate of the damage was not available immediately.

(By The Associated Press)
A late autumn cold wave that drove temperatures down to 31 degrees below zero in Minnesota and North Dakota, retained its icy grip on most of the country last (Tuesday) night, causing at least five deaths.

The mass of cold air covered a wide belt east from the Rocky mountains and no immediate relief was in sight. Sleet fell in New Orleans, Southern Texas got its first taste of snow this season and Miami, Fla., recorded a chilly 59 degree temperature reading at noon.

Dwellings for Veterans
WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Senate today passed legislation authorizing appropriation of $160,000,000 to move abandoned war housing facilities to shortage areas as dwellings for veterans.

An additional $35,000,000 in the pending deficiency appropriation bill would be used for the same purpose.

Navy May Move Duden From Guard to Center

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 11 (AP)—Dick Duden, Navy's All-America football end, made his debut at this season's basketball practice today

and Navy cage mentor John Wilson said the 6 foot 2 Englewood, N. J. lad may be switched from guard to center.

"Duden is big, aggressive, and fights under those bankboards," Wilson observed. "He also has a good scoring punch. By moving him up front, we will be able to take full advantage of his scoring ability."

Last year, Duden's assignments were "pretty evenly divided" between the pivot and guard spot, Wilson said. The 1945 Navy grid captain scored 103 points over a 14-game schedule, an average of better than 7.3.

Giants Farm Player

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—The new York Giants today sent fleet-footed outfielder Leon (Red) Treadway, who batted .241 in 88 games last year, to the Newark (N.J.) Bears of the International league. The transfer of Treadway completes the deal by which the Giants acquired first-baseman Roy Zimmerman from the Bears late last season.

Navy May Move Duden From Guard to Center

and Navy cage mentor John Wilson said the 6 foot 2 Englewood, N. J. lad may be switched from guard to center.

"Duden is big, aggressive, and fights under those bankboards," Wilson observed. "He also has a good scoring punch. By moving him up front, we will be able to take full advantage of his scoring ability."

Last year, Duden's assignments were "pretty evenly divided" between the pivot and guard spot. Wilson said. The 1945 Navy grid captain scored 103 points over a 14-game schedule, an average of better than 7.3.

Giants Farm Player

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—The new York Giants today sent fleet-footed outfielder Leon (Red) Treadway, who batted .241 in 88 games last year, to the Newark (N.J.) Bears of the International League. The transfer of Treadway completes the deal
by which the Giants acquired first-baseman Roy Zimmerman from the Bears late last season.

Rams Will Return

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Fordham university will return to intercollegiate football competition in 1946. Jack Coffey, graduate manager of athletics, said today the Rams probably would play only a limited schedule next season and that no coach had been signed for the team.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear Father,
William M. Brown, who passed away one year ago today, December 12, 1944.

A tender Father, hence has gone,
His loss is great to everyone.
Had we asked Him, well we know
Lord, we love him, let him stay,
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.

God save the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb,
And so He gently closed his eyes
And whispered, "Sweetly come".

Sadly missed by his
GRANDCHILDREN

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear Father,
William M. Brown, who passed away one year today, December 12, 1944.

A tender Father, hence has gone,
His loss is great to everyone.
Had we asked Him, well we know
Lord, we love him, let him stay,
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.

God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb,
And so He gently closed his eyes
And whispered, "Sweetly come."

Sadly missed by his
GRANDCHILDREN

First Report Made Rites Are Planned On Medical Care For Miss Luhrman Program in County

Dr. Franklin Says Bills Totalling about $500 Have Been Received

Since November 1, when the medical care program for indigent persons went into effect in Allegany county, bills totalling approximately $500 have been received by the county board of health from doctors, dentists and pharmacists co-operating in the program, Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, deputy state health officer, said yesterday.

Dr. Franklin, who is chairman of the Allegany County Medical Care Board, appointed to administer the program, made the announcement at a meeting of the board last night in his office in the Public Safety building.

Says "Clarification" Needed

Of the total amount, bills totalling $310 are properly made out, $180 are properly made out, $250 need further clarification before payment, Dr. Franklin said.

In the latter category, it was stated, some bills were sent in by physicians who had treated persons not eligible under the program, which provides that only persons certified by the county welfare board may receive medical care.

Dr. Franklin said that eligible persons are issued certificates by the welfare board, adding that the certificates should be presented to doctors, dentists or pharmacists whose services are sought.

He pointed out that the state has allocated approximately $18,800 yearly to Allegany county, or $1,500 monthly, and that the total of the bills so far received for the month of November is well under the monthly appropriation.

Methods To Be Discussed

Dr. Franklin suggested that a discussion of methods of operation of the program be brought up at the meeting of the Allegany-Garrett county medical society, scheduled for Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Memorial hospital nurses' home.

Dr. Winter R. Franz, assistant city and county health officer, said the term "emergency surgery," listed as one of the services provided under the program, should be defined more clearly. Dr. Franklin replied that members of the medical society will be asked to discuss the term at the meeting Friday, in an effort to determine what type of surgery it should cover.

Although the medical care program also went into effect in Garrett county November 1, a report on bills received under that section of the program has not yet been prepared.

Plea of Booker For Freedom Is Denied by Court

Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge Walter C. Capper yesterday denied the bid for freedom made in circuit court by a Baltimore negro under three years' sentence for robbery in the Maryland Reformatory for Males.

James Booker, arguing for himself, told the court that at his trial in Baltimore in August, 1944, the presiding judge had said, "I can't find you guilty of robbery on this charge, but I can sentence you on your record."

Assistant State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher produced a copy of the record of the Baltimore court proceedings which showed that Booker had been convicted on three of a six-count indictment. Fletcher stated that Booker was denied his freedom at a similar hearing last month in the circuit court of Dorchester county.

In ordering Booker remanded to the reformatory, Judge Huster took cognizance of the wasted effort and money involved in granting Booker a hearing here. The judge said that in cases of the sort the local court is supplied with nothing beyond the prisoner's own plea when he makes a bid for a hearing on a habeas corpus writ.

And in most cases, as in this, the actual facts involved are found to be entirely out of line with the official records, Judge Huster said. In the future, the court declared, the local court will pass an order requiring penal authorities to state in writing why individual requests of inmates for habeas corpus hearings should not be granted. Time and money both will be saved, he said, if the court is in possession of facts that will show whether or not the prisoner's plea has substance.

The two judges continued the hearing of Joseph Martin on a habeas corpus writ yesterday afternoon until December 20 in order that more evidence may be presented.

Martin was sentenced to seven years, later reduced to four, in Baltimore City court on a robbery charge. He testified that he was denied the right of having counsel represent him.

Judge Capper stated that the prisoner should be given further opportunity to present other witnesses who, the prisoner said, would support his testimony.

Miss Emma Gertrude Luhrman, 37, a native and lifelong resident of this city, died yesterday in a Baltimore hospital.

She was a daughter of the late Alphonse I. and Margaret Hoffman Luhrman.

Miss Luhrman was a member of St. Peter and Paul Catholic church, this city, and a member of the Third Order of St. Francis.

She is survived by one brother, Frederick A. Luhrman, 319 Alvett avenue, and a sister, Miss Regina Luhrman, Baltimore.

The body is at the Stein funeral home. Funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at 2 o'clock in St. Peter and Paul Catholic church. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

CHARLES HOUCK RITES

Funeral services for Charles P. Houck, 55, B and O telegrapher, who died Saturday at his home, 709 Frederick street, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home.

The Rev. Walter Marion Michael, pastor of Centre Street Methodist church, officiated and was assisted by the Rev. Helen V. Purinton, pastor of Davis Memorial Methodist church. Interment was in Hillcrest cemetery.

Pallbearers were Harry Nangle, Lewis Stump, William Peebles, Harry Leuthke, Charles Lester and Ray Mattingly.

MISS ANNA JOHNSON

Miss Anna Johnson, 63, neeess, 146 Winnow street, died yesterday afternoon at 2:35 o'clock in Memorial hospital where she had been a patient for four days.

Miss Johnson was a native and lifelong resident of this city. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Eleanor Rhodes, with whom she made her home, and a number of nieces and nephews.

The body is at the Hafer funeral home. Arrangements are incomplete.

MRS. MULLEN RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Catherine Mullen, 71, wife of Joseph A. Mullen, who died Friday evening at her home, 134 South street, were conducted yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's Catholic church.

The Rev. W. Joyce Russell, assistant pastor, was celebrant of the requiem mass. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery.

Pallbearers were Lester Moreland, Victor Moreland, Ambrose Griffin, Thomas Griffin, James Griffin and Jay Catlett.

HARRY M. UPHOLD

Harry M. Uphold, 63, died today about 5:40 a. m. at the home of his two daughters, Liberty street. He had been in ill health several months.

Uphold was a son of the late Clay and Sarah McCabe Uphold and was born in Maryland February 1, 1882. He was employed by the Stanley Coal Company forty years.

He was married to Maude E. Lambert, who died twenty-nine years ago.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Paul Graham and Mrs. Walter Uphold, Liberty street, Oakland, and Mrs. George Shaver, Uniontown, Pa.; also seven grandchildren and one brother, Jack Uphold, Oakland.

He was a member of the Moose lodge of Terra Alta, W. Va. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. from the Crellin church, the Rev. George W. Simpson, United Brethren minister, Mt. Lake Park, officiating. Interment will be in the Ashby cemetery near Crellin.

MRS. SUSAN ROY

OAKLAND, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Susan Lovina Roy, 62, wife of J. R. Roy, Mt. Lake Park, died at her home Monday evening.

Mrs. Roy was a daughter of George Pulmer and the late Jennie Pulmer and was born in this county.

Surviving are her father, her widow and three sons, Robert Roy and Dwight Roy, Charleston, W. Va.; and Capt. Richard Roy, just back this morning from the South Pacific where he had spent more than two years in an infantry unit on Bougainville and other islands.

Also surviving are two grandchildren, a brother, Henry Pulmer, Chattanooga, Tenn.; a half-sister, Georgia Leatherman, Morefield, and John Pulmer, Mt. Lake Park.

Her body will be at the Leighton funeral home until the funeral service which will be conducted Thursday at 2:30 p. m. from the Methodist church at the Park, with the Rev. W. Reece Burns, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in the Pleasant Valley cemetery.

Retired Railroad Men Are Honored

Members of the Bolt and Forge Blacksmiths, Local 32, last night honored six retired members with a dinner at the Central YMCA.

Honored guests were W. H. Troutman, who started work for the B. and O. in 1922 and retired in 1941; George W. Fansler, 1923-45; John D. Barker, 1909-44; George Kreitzberg, 1922-44; Franklin T. Van and Thomas Lyons. The latter three were unable to be present.

Woodrow Grimes served as chairman and introduced Lloyd E. Norris who paid a tribute to the men in service and three members who made the supreme sacrifice.

The local had a total of forty-five men in uniform of which number thirty have returned, twelve are still in service and three were killed in action. The three who died in service were Ralph W. Fansler, killed in Italy; Lee Driscoll, died in service, and Earl S. Sarver, killed in France.

Musical selections were given by Mary David, Woodrow and Robert Maphis.

Asks Safety Co-operation

Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday cautioned Cumberland residents to keep the city free of accidents in the Christmas season, co-operating with the National Safety Council.

He stressed the necessity of driving at a reasonable speed, especially since the automobiles are far below prewar standards.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYERS—Members of the LaSalle, Allegany and Fort Hill high school football squads voted Robert Mattingly, fullback; Lindbergh Cook, guard, and Richard "Dick" White, fullback, as the "most valuable players" on these teams for the 1945 season at the first annual football dinner, sponsored by the Times-News papers, last night at the Cumberland Country Club. Gene Gunning, city editor of the Evening Times, announced the three winners, who were presented wrist watches. Members of the squads in attendance then voted Cook as the "most valuable player" of the three city school elevens. John J. McMullen, president of the Times and Allegany Company, who conceived the idea of holding the award dinners annually, announced Cook as the winner. Shown above, left to right, are Mattingly, Cook, Gunning and White.

Local 26, URWA, Re-elects Beard As President

Ralph C. Beard, Valley road, was re-elected president of Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America, CIO, according to an announcement last evening by the local's election committee.

Beard was opposed in a run-off election by Roy E. Davy, former president of the local.

A. E. Johnson defeated Harry E. Castle as vice president of the local. Kelly local, the board announced late last evening after the run-off ballots were tallied.

Neither of the newly elected officers will be installed at the regular installation to be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the union hall since Beard and Johnson, along with Odell Young, will leave this evening to represent Local 26 in the URWA convention to be held in Grand Rapids, Mich., December 14 to 19.

Officers to be installed Sunday include John P. Chisholm, secretary-treasurer, and the following members of the labor-management committee, Odell Young, A. E. Robinson, W. E. Plummer, G. B. Allen and Harry E. Castle.

Harry E. Castle, retiring vice president, will be in charge of Sunday's meeting, Beard reported.

Schools in Tucker County Are Closed Because of Flu

By HELEN COLLETT

PARSONS, W. Va., Dec. 11.—Acting on the recommendation of the county board of health, the Tucker County School Board tonight declared that all town schools in Tucker county be closed, starting Thursday morning and continuing until Monday, December 17, because of a flu epidemic.

Today's attendance report disclosed that thirty-two per cent of the children in town schools were absent because of illness. The town school attendance report looked like this:

School	Absent	Enroll
Thomas graded	184	430
Parsons graded	136	350
Parsons high	98	440
Hamrick	54	235
Pierce	54	125
Davis graded	38	145
Davis high	47	165

The board of health, represented by Dr. P. K. Lyons, county health officer, also ordered that all teachers, school activities and Sunday schools of the county be closed to children during the quarantine period.

The quarantine applies only to town schools. Schools in rural communities will be governed by the amount of absenteeism.

Only other announcement made by the school board was that Lt. Cmdr. Glenn K. Henry, recently discharged after four years in the navy, has resumed his former position as an instructor in Parsons high school.

Five Sailors Escape Serious Injury In Auto Crash

Five Cumberland sailors escaped serious injury about 2 a. m. Monday when the car in which they were riding crashed against a tree near Hancock after the motor caught fire.

The sailors, including Pharmacist Mate 3-c Harold Shober, 20, 336 North Mechanic street, and James Browning, this city, received treatment at a Hancock physician's office for cuts and bruises. The others were unharmed.

According to reports, the motor of the car became overheated and caught fire while the machine was descending Stoney hill. The car crashed against a tree and came to stop before running over a bank.

Shober's brother, Edward, picked up the quintet at Hancock and drove them to their station at the navy yard in Washington. All five are overseas veterans recently returned to the states.

73 Divorce Suits Filed in Court Here Last Month

Seventy-three divorce actions were docketed in circuit court last month compared to 116 wedding permits issued.

This comparison is unfavorable to Allegany county as two thirds of the applicants for marriage licenses are from out of the state while all divorce actions are filed by residents of the county.

The normal divorce rate in Allegany county established several years ago and sustained until recent months, was better than two marriages for every divorce action filed.

Divorce Rate Increases

A sharp jump in the divorce rate was observed last July when court records revealed sixty-two divorce actions filed while ninety-two marriage licenses were issued.

Four suits for absolute divorce were docketed in circuit yesterday and one for an annulment.

E. M. Horcher docketed a petition for Mrs. Luella M. Herzog against Charles Herzog in which she asked for the custody of the couple's only child, a daughter, they were married in 1936 and separated in 1944.

Edward J. Ryan filed a petition for Floyd M. Parker versus Unity M. Parker in which he asks for an absolute decree and the custody of two children, ages nine and seven. They were married in 1934 and separated this year.

Other Petitions Filed

Morris Baron filed another petition for an absolute decree, alimony and an injunction for Margaret E. Bennett, 415 South street, against John D. Bennett.

Bennett charges that her husband threatened her life after marriage in 1942. Chief Judge William A. Huster ordered Bennett to pay his wife $40 for counsel fees, $15 a week pending a hearing of the case and enjoined him from entering the premises on South street.

Ryan filed another petition for an absolute decree for Clarence Getson versus Helen L. Getson. They were married in Westernport in 1935.

In another case filed by Ryan, Carl M. Knippie, Jr., serving in the army, asked that his marriage with M. Knippie be annulled. They were married February 26, 1945.

Oscar A. Eyerman, chief of police, yesterday instructed members of the Cumberland police department to do their duty during the holiday season but to use courtesy at all times.

Declining courtesy during the Christmas season is expected of all police officers, Eyerman pointed out that many of the holiday shoppers will be discharged servicemen and women not familiar with local parking regulations.

The police chief added that shoppers from other communities will judge the police force here by the manner in which the first policeman treats them.

Only other announcement made by the school board was that Lt. Cmdr. Glenn K. Henry, recently discharged after four years in the navy, has resumed his former position as an instructor in Parsons high school.

Allegany County School Teachers May Form Conservation Council

A Cumberland man who was casting around the other day for non-crete evidence to prove that the recent conservation forum accomplished considerable, pointed to the conservation study now being made by Allegany county teachers as evidence.

While most persons admit the recent forum accomplished much in stimulating interest in conservation, the teachers themselves could have drawn up by the staff including Charles L. Kopp, superintendent, Miss Ruby Adams, director of elementary education, Miss Mildred Willison, supervising teacher, and others. The study was made by a group of approximately fifty teachers who made field trips, studied and prepared a report which was submitted last week.

May Form Council

With an initial study completed, it is proposed that a conservation council be composed with one teacher from each school represented.

Members of the council would make an intensive study of conservation, particularly as it affects Allegany county, and report their findings from time to time to the school board. The respective schools, teachers in the respective schools, and a steering committee composed of teachers who made the first preliminary studies are now working out the details for the council.

Teachers who started working early in the school year report that after weeks of study that they are now "just getting into the subject" and intend to continue their work.

Two-Part Program

The program has been divided roughly into two parts: one, how conservation affects teachers; and two, how the subject can be brought home to children with best results.

A steering committee composed of teachers who made the first preliminary studies are now working out the details for the council.

Teachers who started working early in the school year report that after weeks of study that they are now "just getting into the subject" and intend to continue their work.

Members of Companies C and D are urged to attend the match tonight.

Legionnaires Seek To Oust Boxing Commissioner

Fort Cumberland Post Objects to Burns Sanctioning Another Show

Port Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, last night voted in favor of a motion presented by Robert Chisholm, of the Legion Athletic committee, that Clarence "Jiggs" Burns, sports editor of the News, be asked to resign as Cumberland boxing commissioner of the AAU and that the state AAU be so informed.

Chisholm said he was opposed to a recent sanction granted in Cumberland which he said was favored by Burns and added that in his opinion the recipients of the sanction "would be better off running professional shows."

David W. Sloan, commenting on the motion, stated that the motion was in keeping with a recent campaign of the Cumberland newspapers against gambling.

Graham Opposes Action

Commander Samuel A. Graham stated that in his opinion such action was not necessary and Robert C. Bowers, past commander, drew attention to the fact that Burns had faithfully covered every type of Legion activity for years, but the motion was passed.

When informed of the Legion's action last night, Burns said:

"I approved Bobby Shrou's application for a license to promote an amateur boxing tournament this week at St. Peter and Paul hall because I felt that his past record in connection with boxing here was satisfactory."

"David W. Sloan called me on the telephone after the AAU had approved Shrou's license and told me that since the Legion had recommended my appointment as commissioner, I should have turned down Shrou's application. I informed Mr. Sloan that as long as I am boxing commissioner I will show no discrimination whatsoever against any individual or organization that may desire to stage amateur boxing shows here as long as their past record in boxing is satisfactory."

"From the tone of Sloan's protest it is evident that he felt that since the Legion recommended my appointment it was up to me to see that this organization monopolized the sport. I am sorry the Legion feels this way about the matter."

Sloan's request that the Legion do something about "two four P's" who have been named for membership on the municipal airport committee for lack of a second after a member in uniform arose and stated that he disagreed with Sloan and that no man should be condemned because he was unable to meet the physical requirements for getting into the United States Army.

Commander Graham, reporting for Vincent Ingram, chairman of the rehabilitation committee, proposed that the Legion vote in favor of a proposal of Mayor T. S. Post to create a commission composed of members from veterans organizations to study Cumberland's housing situation.

When a member suggested from the floor that this field was the business of the chamber of commerce, Graham said that it was his understanding that Mayor Post is of the opinion that the chamber has fallen down on the job in regard to the housing and that it is up to the housing and the veterans' groups to do something about it. The post approved Ingram's proposal to participate in such a study. The group will have its office located in city hall.

Kelly Program Outlined

E. G. Lytle, personnel manager at the Kelly Springfield plant, made a comprehensive report to the members on the plant's program of placing returning veterans.

Lytle reported that 438 veterans are now employed at the plant and that "despite Patrick J. Carroll's reports from the United States Employment Service, the firm anticipates employing some more and adding jobs will also be provided by the plant's turnover."

Lytle stated that returning men are now participating in the firm's squadrons where men learn a variety of jobs — to supply the need for versatile men at the plant. Others are taking the engineers' apprenticeship course and veterans, are, of course, employed in the production department.

Lytle said that unfortunately most of the work in the plant is such that few handicapped men can be given work there and that in most cases handicapped soldiers have been put to work in the office.

Lytle said that within the next few months, the plant anticipates that thirty per cent of the male employees will be veterans—a record the plant is proud of.

Commander Graham thanked Lytle for his report but said the members were mainly interested in what the firm was doing for handicapped men and he hoped that Lytle and Ingram, rehabilitation chairman, would discuss the matter further.

Last night's meeting was delayed in getting underway due to the absence of a quorum. The necessary number was finally assembled, however, and Commander Graham called the meeting to order.

Four Births Are Reported Here

Mr. and Mrs. Bevis J. Kerns, 610 Maryland avenue, announce the birth of a son in Memorial hospital yesterday morning.

A son, Robert N. Chaney, Jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Chaney, in Washington County hospital, Hagerstown, last Friday. Mrs. Chaney is the former Miss Mina Jean Montgomery of this city.

Temperature Hits 18 Degree Mark

Severe Cold Wave Continues with No Relief in Sight

The temperature plummeted far below the freezing mark here last night with a recording of 18 degrees above zero being reported at 11 o'clock.

At that, Cumberland was the virtual "hot spot" of the tri-state area as the cold wave ended its second day with no relief in sight.

A recording of 10 degrees was reported at Deal, Pa., at 7 p. m. and there was no change four hours later. The temperature at Thomas, W. Va., also was down to 10 degrees from a 7 p. m. report.

On Big Savage mountain a recording of 12 degrees was reported at 7 o'clock with an eighteen-mile an hour wind blowing. Cumberland's temperature was 20 degrees at 7 p. m.

State police said last night that roads in this section were in good condition although driving was "rough" in spots in Garrett county. Snow flurries were reported in the Grantsville section late last night.

Local Man Hurt On Crossing Is In Fair Condition

Frank M. Riley, 74, Linden street, was in a "fair" condition early last evening in Memorial hospital where he was admitted early yesterday morning for treatment of injuries suffered when he was struck by a locomotive on the Frederick street B and O crossing.

Riley, a janitor at the NYA building on Paca street, was admitted to the hospital suffering from a crushed right foot, possible internal injuries, shock, lacerations of the left knee, nose and lower lip and bruise burns of the forehead. His toes were amputated at the third joint, attaches reported.

Was On Way To Work

Police Lt. James E. Van, who investigated, said Riley apparently did not see the light helper engine which was backing east into the yards as the local man was on his way to work about 6 a. m.

Lee B. See, B. and O. yardmaster, investigated for the authorities. Riley was formerly employed as janitor at the court house, authorities said.

Samuel H. Blank, 36, 314 Broadway, was treated in the same hospital yesterday at 6 a. m. for a lacerated chin. The B. and O. yardmaster said he was struck by a train while he was bleeding the air from a freight car.

B. and O. Worker Hurt

Another B. and O. worker, Earl Johnson, 17, 229 Paca street, was treated in Allegany hospital yesterday afternoon at 12:15 o'clock for a small laceration on the head. The train was struck by a freight car, which was bleeding the air from a freight car.

Wanetta Robertson, 17, 226 Paca street, was treated yesterday at 11:25 a. m. in Allegany hospital for a deep laceration on the forehead and a laceration on the cheek. Attendants were told she cut herself on a piece of glass at McCrory's store where she is employed as a clerk.

Local News in Brief

Dr. John Parks, noted professor of gynecology and obstetrics at the George Washington university school of medicine, Washington, D. C., will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Allegany-Garrett county medical society Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Memorial hospital nurses' home.

Dr. Linne H. Corson, president, said that officers for the coming year will also be elected at the meeting.

First Report Made On Medical Care Program in County

Dr. Franklin Says Bills Totalling about $500 Have Been Received

Since November 1, when the medical care program for indigent persons went into effect in Allegany county, bills totalling approximately $500 have been received by the county board of health from doctors, dentists and pharmacists co-operating in the program, Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, deputy state health officer, said yesterday.

Dr. Franklin, who is chairman of the Allegany County Medical Care Board, appointed to administer the program, made the announcement at a meeting of the board last night in his office in the Public Safety building.

Says "Clarification" Needed

Of the total amount, bills totalling $310 are properly made out, while others amounting to about $250 need further clarification before payment, Dr. Franklin said.

In the latter category it was stated, some bills were sent to physicians who had treated persons not eligible under the program, which provides that only persons certified by the county welfare board may receive medical care.

Dr. Franklin said that eligible persons are issued certificates by the welfare board, adding that the certificates should be presented to doctors, dentists or pharmacists whose services are sought.

He pointed out that the state has allocated approximately $18,000 yearly to Allegany county, or $15,000 monthly, and that the total of the bills so far received for the month of November is well under the monthly appropriation.

Methods To Be Discussed

Dr. Franklin suggested that a discussion of methods of operation of the program be brought up at the meeting of the Allegany-Garrett county medical society, scheduled for Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Memorial hospital nurses' home.

Dr. Winter R. Franz, assistant city and county health officer, said the term "emergency surgery," listed as one of the services provided under the program, should be defined more clearly. Dr. Franklin replied that members of the medical society will be asked to discuss the term at the meeting Friday, in an effort to determine what type of surgery it should cover.

Although the medical care program also went into effect in Garrett county November 1, a report on bills received under that section of the program has not yet been prepared.

Plea of Booker For Freedom Is Denied by Court

Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge Walter C. Capper yesterday denied the bid for freedom made in circuit court by a Baltimore negro under three years sentence for robbery in the Maryland Reformatory for Males.

James Booker, arguing for himself, told the court that at his trial in Baltimore in August, 1944, the presiding judge had said, "Find you guilty of robbery on this charge, but I can sentence you on your record."

Assistant State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher produced a copy of the record of the Baltimore court proceedings which showed that Booker had been convicted on three of a six-count indictment. Fletcher stated that Booker was denied his freedom at a similar hearing last month in the circuit court of Dorchester county.

In ordering Booker remanded to the reformatory, Judge Huster took cognizance of the wasted effort and money involved in granting Booker a hearing here. The judge said that in cases of the sort the local court is supplied with nothing beyond the prisoner's own plea when he makes a bid for a hearing on a habeas corpus writ.

And in most cases, as in this, the actual facts involved are found to be entirely out of line with the official records, Judge Huster said.

In the future, the court declared, the local court will pass an order requiring penal authorities to state in writing why individual requests of inmates for habeas corpus hearings should not be granted. Time and money both will be saved, he said, if the court is in possession of facts that will show whether or not the prisoner's plea has substance.

The two judges continued the hearing of Joseph Martinal on a habeas corpus writ yesterday afternoon until December 20 in order that more evidence may be presented.

Martinal was sentenced to seven years, later reduced to four, in Baltimore City court on a robbery charge. He testified that he was denied the right of having counsel represent him.

Judge Capper stated that the prisoner should be given further opportunity to present other witnesses who, the prisoner said, would support his testimony.

Rites Are Planned For Miss Luhrman

Miss Emma Gertrude Luhrman, 57, a native and lifelong resident of this city, died yesterday in a Baltimore hospital.

She was a daughter of the late Alphonse L. and Margaret Hoffman Luhrman.

Miss Luhrman was a member of St. Peter and Paul Catholic church, this city, and a member of the Third Order of St. Francis.

She is survived by one brother, Frederick A. Luhrman, 319 Avonnet avenue, and a sister, Miss Regina Luhrman, Baltimore.

The body is at the Stein funeral home. Funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Peter and Paul Catholic church. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

CHARLES HOUCK RITES

Funeral services for Charles P. Houck, 55, B. and O. telegrapher, who died Saturday at his home, 709 Frederick street, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home.

The Rev. Walter Marion Michael, pastor of Centre Street Methodist church, officiated and was assisted by the Rev. Helen V. Purinton, pastor of the Memorial Methodist church. Interment was in Hillcrest cemetery.

Palbearers were Harry Naugle, Lewis Stump, William Peebles, Harry Leuthke, Charles Lester and Ray Mattingly.

MISS ANNA JOHNSON

Miss Anna Johnson, 63, negro, 146 Winrow street, died yesterday afternoon at 2:35 o'clock in Memorial hospital where she had been a patient for four days.

Miss Johnson was a native and lifelong resident of this city.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Eleanor Rhodes, with whom she made her home, and a number of nieces and nephews.

The body is at the Hafer funeral home. Arrangements are incomplete.

MRS. MULLEN RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Catherine Mullen, 71, wife of Joseph A. Mullen, who died Friday evening at her home, 134 South street, were conducted yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's Catholic church.

The Rev. W. Joyce Russell, assistant pastor, was the celebrant of the requiem mass. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery.

Palbearers were Lester Moreland, Victor Moreland, Ambrose Griffin, Thomas Griffin, James Griffin and Jay Catlett.

HARRY M. UPHOLD

Harry Minnow Uphold, 63, died today about 5:40 a. m. at the home of his two daughters, Liberty street. He had been in ill health several months.

Uphold was a son of the late Clay and Sarah McCabe Uphold and was born in Maryland February 1, 1882. He was employed by the Stanley Coal Company forty years.

He was married to Maude E. Lambert, who died twenty-nine years ago.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Paul Graham and Mrs. Walter Hoiler, Liberty street, Oakland, Pa.; also seven grandchildren and one brother, Jack Uphold, Oakland.

He was a member of the Moose lodge of Terra Alta, W. Va.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. from the Crellin church, Rev. George W. Simpson, United Brethren minister. Mt. Lake Park, officiating. Interment will be in the Ashby cemetery near Crellin.

MRS. SUSAN ROY

OAKLAND, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Susan Lovina Roy, 62, wife of J. R. Roy, died at her home Monday evening.

Mrs. Roy was a daughter of George Fulmer and the late Jennie Fulmer and was born in this county.

Surviving are her father, her mother and three sons, Robert Roy and Dwight Roy, Charleston, W. Va.; and Capt. Richard Roy, just back this morning from the South Pacific where he had spent more than two years with an infantry unit on Bougainville and other islands.

Also surviving are two grandchildren, a brother, Henry Fulmer, Chattanooga, Tenn.; a half-sister, Georgia Leatherman, Moorefield, and John Fulmer, Mt. Lake Park.

Her body will be at the Leighton funeral home until the funeral service which will be conducted Thursday at 2:30 p. m. from the Methodist church at the Park, with the Rev. W. Reece Burns, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in the Pleasant Valley cemetery.

Retired Railroad Men Are Honored

Members of the Bolt and Forge Blacksmiths, Local 32, last night honored 43 retired members with a dinner at the Central YMCA.

Honored guests were W. H. Troutman, who started work for the B. and O. in 1922 and retired in 1941; George W. Pansler, 1923-45; John D. Barker, 1909-44; George Kreitzburg, 1922-44; Franklin T. Van and Thomas Lyons. The latter three were unable to be present.

Woodrow Grimes served as chairman and introduced Lloyd E. Norwood, who paid a tribute to the men in service and three members who made the supreme sacrifice.

The local had a total of forty-five men in uniform of which number thirty have returned, twelve are in service and three were killed in action. The three who died in service were Ralph W. Fandler, killed in Italy; Lee Driscoll, died in service, and Earl S. Sarver, killed in France.

Herbert F. Sarver, president of the local, paid a tribute to the retired men.

Musical selections were given by Mary, David, Woodrow and Robert Maphis.

Asks Safety Co-operation

Mayor Thomas S. Post yesterday cautioned Cumberland residents to keep the city free of accidents in the Christmas season, co-operating with the National Safety Council.

He stressed the necessity of driving at a reasonable speed, especially when the automobiles are far below prewar standards.

Local 26, URWA, Re-elects Beard As President

Ralph C. Beard, Valley road, was re-elected president of Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America, CIO, according to an announcement last evening by the local's election committee.

Beard was opposed in a run-off election by Roy E. Davy, former president of the local.

A. E. Johnson defeated Harry E. Castle, as vice president of the Kelly local, the board announced late last evening after the run-off ballots were tallied.

Neither of the newly elected officers will be installed at the regular installation to be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the union hall since Beard and Johnson, along with Odell Young, will leave this evening to represent Local 26 in the URWA convention to be held in Grand Rapids, Mich., December 14 to 19.

Officers to be installed "Sunday include John F. Chisholm, secretary-treasurer, and the following members of the labor-management committee, Odell Young, A. E. Robinson, W. E. Plummer, G. B. Allen and Harry E. Castle.

Harry E. Castle, retiring vice president, will be in charge of Sunday's meeting, Beard reported.

Schools in Tucker County Are Closed Because of Flu

By HELEN COLLETT
PARSONS, W. Va., Dec. 11.—Acting on the recommendation of the county board of health, the Tucker County School Board tonight declared that all town schools in Tucker county be closed, starting Thursday morning and continuing until Monday, December 17, because of a flu epidemic.

Today's attendance report disclosed that thirty-two per cent of the children in town schools were absent because of illness. The town school attendance report looked like this:

School	Absent	Enroll
Thomas graded	134	430
Parsons graded	136	360
Parsons high	98	440
Hamrick	54	235
Pierce	65	125
Dunlap	38	145
Davis high	47	165

The board of health, represented by Dr. P. K. Lyons, county health officer, also ordered that all teachers, school activities and Sunday schools of the county be closed to children during the quarantine period.

The quarantine applies only to town schools. Schools in rural communities will be governed by the amount of absenteeism.

Only other announcement made by the school board was that Lt. Cmdr. Glenn K. Henry, recently discharged after four years in the navy, has resumed his former position as an instructor in Parsons high school.

Five Sailors Escape Serious Injury In Auto Crash

Five Cumberland sailors escaped serious injury about 2 a. m. Monday when the car in which they were riding crashed against a tree near Hancock after the motor caught fire.

The sailors, including Pharmacist Mate 3-r Harold Shober, 20, 536 North Mechanic street, and James Browning, this city, received treatment at a Hancock physicians office for cuts and bruises. The others were unidentified.

According to reports, the motor of the car became overheated and caught fire while the machine was descending Stoney hill. The car crashed against a tree and came to stop before running over a bank. Shober's brother, Edward, picked up the quintet at Hancock and drove them to their station at the navy yard in Washington. All five are overseas veterans recently returned to the states.

Edward J. Ryan filed a petition for Floyd M. Parker versus Unity M. Parker in which he asks for an absolute decree and the custody of two children, ages nine and seven. They were married in 1934 and separated this year.

Other Petitions Filed

Morris Baron filed another petition for an absolute decree, alimony and an injunction for Margaret E. Bennett, 415 South street, against Joseph D. Bennett.

Mrs. Bennett charges that her husband threatened her life after marriage in 1942. Chief Judge William A. Huster ordered Bennett to pay his wife $40 for counsel fees, $15 a week pending a hearing of the case and enjoined her from entering the premises on South street.

Ryan filed another petition for an absolute decree for Clarence Getson versus Helen L. Getson. They were married in Westernport in 1935.

In another case filed by Ryan, Carl M. Knipple, Jr., serving in the army, asked that his marriage with Lois M. Knipple be annulled. They were married February 26, 1945.

Eight battalion officers including Lt. Col. W. Preston Lane, commander, and Maj. Crown O'Deigh are to be present for the local match which is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

The winning company tonight will fire against the company winning in an elimination match at Hagerstown. The Cumberland-Oakland match will be fired on the local range on December 21, with the winner to represent the Eighth battalion in Baltimore at the state tourney.

Six-man teams plus a coach and an additional rifleman from each company, employed in the production department, Cumberland company have been practicing for the match for the past two months. The match will be fired with twenty-two caliber rifles.

Members of Companies C and D were urged to attend the match tonight.

Lytle said that within the next few months, the plant anticipates that thirty per cent of the male employees will be veterans—a record the plant is proud of.

Commander Graham thanked Lytle for his report but said the members were mainly interested in what the firm was doing for handicapped men and he hoped that Lytle and Ingram, rehabilitation chairman, would discuss the matter further.

Last night's meeting was delayed in getting underway due to the absence of a quorum. The necessary number was finally assembled, however, and Commander Graham called the meeting to order.

Man Is Admitted To Local Hospital After Auto Crash

Walter Miller, 26, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., was admitted to Memorial hospital last evening at 7:15 o'clock for treatment of a fracture of the left collarbone and a laceration of the left eyelid suffered, he told attaches, when the car he was driving crashed on the Baltimore pike. Attaches added his condition was "good."

Officer J. Carl Stouffer, who investigated for city police, said Miller reported he was driving toward this city from Hancock when the car skidded and crashed on the on the slippery road near Minke's tavern about six miles east of this city.

Miller, police said, was accompanied by a man who gave his name as James Bishop, Hancock, who was uninjured in the crash.

Bishop, a former resident of this city, told Assistant Police Chief John J. Treiber he had "thumbed" a ride from Hancock with Miller.

The men told police they were brought to the hospital by a passing motorist who left after delivering them to the hospital, Officer Stouffer said.

State Troopers Glen D. Folk and Harry Holinger reported last evening at 11:30 o'clock that the car Miller was driving was found on the west side of Sideling mountain by police and that the car is under investigation.

The troopers added that Bishop is being held in the city jail for state police pending the completion of the investigation and that Miller will be turned over to state police for investigation when he is released from the local hospital.

Legionnaires Seek To Oust Boxing Commissioner

Fort Cumberland Post Objects to Burns Sanctioning Another Show

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, last night voted in favor of a motion presented by Robert Chisholm, of the Legion Athletic committee, that Clarence "Jiggs" Burns, sports editor of the News, be asked to resign as Cumberland boxing commissioner of the AAU and that the state AAU be so informed.

Chisholm said he was opposed to a recent sanction granted in Cumberland which he said was favored by Burns and added that in his opinion the recipients of the sanction "would be better off running professional shows."

David W. Sloan, commenting on the motion, stated that the motion was in keeping with a recent campaign of the Cumberland newspapers against gambling.

Graham Opposes Action
Commander Samuel A. Graham stated that in his opinion such action was not necessary and Robert C. Bowers, past commander, drew attention to the fact that Burns had faithfully covered every type of Legion activity for years, but the motion was passed.

When informed of the Legion action last night, Burns said: "I approved Bobby Shroust's application for a license to promote an amateur boxing tournament this week at St. Peter and Paul hall because I felt that his past record in connection with boxing here was satisfactory."

"David W. Sloan called me on the telephone after the AAU had approved Shroust's license and told me that since the Legion had recommended my appointment as commissioner I should have turned down Shroust's application. I informed Mr. Sloan that as long as I am boxing commissioner I will show no discrimination whatsoever against any individual or organization that may desire to stage amateur boxing shows here as long as their past record in boxing is satisfactory."

"From the tone of Sloan's protest it is evident that he felt that since the Legion recommended my appointment it was up to me to see that this organization monopolized the sport. I am sorry the Legion feels this way about the matter."

Sloan's request that the Legion do something about "two four F's" who have been named for membership on the municipal airport commission died for lack of a second after a number in uniform arose and stated that he disagreed with Sloan and that no man should be deemed because he was unable to meet the physical requirements for getting into the United States Army.

Commander Graham, reporting for Vincent Ingram, chairman of the rehabilitation committee, proposed that the Legion vote in favor of a proposal of Mayor T. S. Post to create a commission composed of members from veterans organizations to study Cumberland's housing situation.

When a member suggested from the floor that this field be the business of the chamber of commerce, Graham said that it was his understanding that Mayor Post is of the opinion that the chamber has failed in the job in regard to housing and that it is up to the unions and the veterans' groups to do something about it. The post approved Ingram's proposal to participate in such a study. The group will have its office located in city hall.

Kelly Program Outlined
E. G. Lytle, personnel manager at the Kelly Springfield plant, made a comprehensive report to the members on the plant's program of placing returning veterans.

Lytle reported that 438 veterans are now employed at the plant and that "despite Patrick J. Carroll's reports from the United States Employment Service, the firm anticipates employing some more and added that jobs will also be provided by the plant's turnover."

Lytle stated that returning men are now participating in the firm's squadrons where men learn a variety of jobs — to supply the need for versatile men at the plant. Others are taking the engineers' apprenticeship course and veterans, are, of course, employed in the production department.

Lytle said that unfortunately most of the work in the plant is such that few handicapped men can be given work there and that in most cases handicapped soldiers have been put to work in the office.

Lytle said that within the next few months, the plant anticipates that thirty per cent of the male employees will be veterans—a record the plant is proud of.

Commander Graham thanked Lytle for his report but said the members were mainly interested in what the firm was doing for handicapped men and he hoped that Lytle and Ingram, rehabilitation chairman, would discuss the matter further.

Last night's meeting was delayed in getting underway due to the absence of a quorum. The necessary number was finally assembled, however, and Commander Graham called the meeting to order.
